Rumania Will Yield No Part Of Dobruja to Bulgaria Despite Pressure

FEAR RUSSIANS MAY OCCUPY BESSARABIA

BUCHAREST, Oct. 30 (AP).—Officials said tonight the Rumanian Government would refuse flatly to cede an inch of soil to Bulgaria, reported to have Soviet Russian support for return of the disputed Dobruja territory.

At the same time it was learned authoritatively that should Russia decide to occupy the Rumanian province of Bassarabia, she probably would meet little opposition because of the strategic disposition of Rumanian forces.

Although qualified sources admitted here a "symbolic" territorial concession to Bulgaria in Dobruja could be made with little material loss, the concern is that such a step might be taken by Rumania's neighbors as a sign that the country was crumbling.

THREE DISPUTED AREAS

The Dobruja, a 9,000-square-mile area, was attached to Rumania after the first Great War. Transylvania was acquired from Hungary, who has never given up hope of getting it back. Russia never has recognized the sovereignty of Rumania over Bessarabia.

There are no Rumanian armed forces in Bessarabia at present except for cavalry and small motorized units, which, it was expected, would fall back quickly in the event of invasion.

Rumania's first line of defence has been set up along the River Plut, which divides Bessarabia from the

DANCER FACES TRIAL AS SPY

"Nina" and Three Others Charged With Acting for Italian Military

GENEVA, Oct. 30 (AP).—An attractive dancer known in continental night clubs as "Nina" was called to a secret session of Federal Court today to defend herself against charges of treason and espionage.

It was reported she refused to answer questions.

"Nina," whose name is Virginia Capt Rota, is on trial with two men and another woman in Switzerland's first major spy trial since the beginning of the war.

It was stated officially a Swiss friend, Roger Joel, one-time draftsman in an arms factory, was accused by the prosecution of making models of secret Swiss anti-aircraft gun designs and other arms for the dancer.

FACING TWO CHARGES

The thirty-five-year-old dancer and Joel face a possible sentence of from three to twenty years in prison on the double count of espionage and treason.

The other defendants, Paul Rochat and his wife, were charged with organizing an information service for an Italian consul-general in Switzerland under the dancer's orders.

"Nina" and Joel were arrested, Swiss secret police declared, as they attempted to cross into France with plans for the anti-aircraft gun and other military data.

Airplane Survives Blow by Lightning Bolt in Mountains

BRINDISI, Italy, Oct. 30 (AP)—The pilot's hair was singed and his clothes burned by a lightning bolt which struck the plane during a mountain storm, the passengers reported, but the British Imperial Airways machine proceeded on its course and landed safely here today. The sixteen passengers and the crew of six were not injured.

Artillery Action Revived With Return of Good Weather On Western Front

PARIS, Oct. 30 (AP).—A renewal of patrol raids along the entire Western Front, accompanied by "intensely active" operations of both fighting and scouting planes, was reported tonight by the French High Command.

The return of relatively good weather to the Front, after more than a week of rains, wind and snow, also revived artillery action in local bombardments.

British and French planes, military dispatches reported, scouted German concentrations along the eastern bank of the Rhine.

FLIGHTS ARE SUCCESSFUL

Under the protection of fighting squadrons, the high-flying reconnaissance craft brought back what was described as "all sorts of information."

At the same time French patrols made careful thrusts along the entire Front to test German strength.

Military sources said there was no change in the front lines.

The general staff announced officially that France had lost merchant ships totaling 41,000 tons to German undersea and surface raiders during the first two months of the war.

FOUR SHIPS CAPTURED

During the same period, the communique added, "we captured four ships, one of which, the German freighter Halle, was sunk by her crew. Three others, of a total of 19,000 tons, are being made use of by us. Since hostilities began our merchant fleet has therefore been reduced 22,000 tons or about 1 per cent of the total seagoing tonnage."

Peruvian Airmen Unreported on 4,014-Mile Flight From New York to Lima

LIMA, Peru, Oct. 30 (AP).—Hope for successful completion of an attempted 4,014-mile non-stop flight from New York to Lima by two Peruvian brothers was abandoned by Lima airport officials tonight as the flyers' fuel supply deadline passed without word of their landing.

The aviators, Commander Humberto Gal'lino, of the Peruvian navy, and Captain Victor Gal'lino, of the Peruvian army, took off from Floyd Bennett Field in New York on Sunday and had expected to reach here today. Their 1,150-gallon fuel supply was expected to last a maximum of thirty hours. This limit was passed at 4 43 p.m., P.S.T.

LEGISLATURE OPENS TODAY

Hon. E. W. Hamber Will Convene Third Session of Nineteenth Legislature

Hon. E. W. Hamber will open the third session of the Nineteenth Legislature at 3 p.m. today, launching what is expected to be a short and relatively uneventful session, under wartime economies. His Honor will be met by a khaki guard of the P.P.C.L.I. and attended inside the House by an officer escort and his aides. Approximately 600 invited guests will witness the ceremonies, apart from those in the public galleries.

Prayers on the opening day will be read by Rt. Rev. H. E. Sexton, Bishop of Columbia. The Speech from the Throne, to be read by the Lieutenant-Governor, is expected to touch on wartime conditions in the province, and to suggest a minimum of proposed legislation.

Before adjourning debate on the Address in Reply, the House will take a bill to amend the Supreme Court Act one stage, to preserve the people's right to consider their business first.

TWO NEW MEMBERS

Los Angeles Temperature Soars Again

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 30 (AP).—An official maximum of 99 degrees contributed today to Los Angeles' hottest October on record, as unseasonable heat stifled much of the California coastal region.

There have been two October days hotter than today. One was October 4, 1933, with 100 degrees, and the other October 3, 1885, with 102. But no October as a whole has had as much high temperature for Los Angeles.

Today's maximum in San Francisco was 81 degrees at 1 p.m. This was one degree higher than any other October 30 there on record.

German Cruelties Exposed in Grim Detail at London

Official British Publication Describes Treatment Of Jews and Other Minorities by Nazis While Complaining of Oppression of German Nationals in Other European Countries

LONDON, Oct. 30 (AP).—Britons who have long known that the Nazi will impose great cruelties upon German Jews and other minorities, nevertheless were shocked tonight to read a British White Paper exposing in grim detail atrocities which have been perpetuated in Nazi concentration camps.

Floggings and bindings, shootings and fiendish manifestations of sadism were attested to in the thirty-six-page document as conditions "reminiscent of the darkest ages of the history of man."

So repugnant were some of the affidavits in the Government's possession that "even after the outbreak of war His Majesty's Government felt reluctant to take action which might have the effect of inspiring hatred."

FOR PUBLIC TO JUDGE

"But," said the introduction to the paper, "the attitude of the German Government and the unscrupulous propaganda which they are spreading compels His Majesty's Government to publish these documents so that public opinion, both at home and abroad, may be able to judge for itself."

R. T. Smallbones, British Consul-General at Frankfort-on-Main, reported that at a concentration camp in Buchenwald "during the first night guards came in and picked out men at random. They took them outside to be flogged. Fixed on the ground were two footplates to which the man's feet were strapped. He was bent over a pole and his head was secured between two horizontal bars. The men were given up to fifty strokes, except for promiscuous flogging inflicted for 'sport,' when

POLICE APPEAR JUST TOO LATE

Start Quest for Alleged Killer After He Leaves Witness Stand

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP).—A hard-handed seaman with a heroic tattoo spread-eagled across his chest left a Congressional committee's witness chair today just before detectives began a quest for him in connection with an inquiry into a New Orleans killing.

Having appeared before the committee investigating un-American activities, in his working clothes to challenge Joseph Curran's recent denials of Communist influence in the National Maritime Union (Congress of Industrial Organizations), William C. McCuiston stepped from the building, hailed a taxicab and vanished in the rain.

"I've got an urgent appointment," he pleaded to newsmen attempting to question him.

A short while later, New Orleans police asked Washington police to detain "William C. McQuiston" in the investigation of the fatal shooting of William Carey on September 17. At New Orleans, Chief of Detectives John Grosch said the man wanted was a Dies committee witness. McCuiston was the day's only witness. He gave his name as "McCuiston," and a committee attache said that spelling appeared on medals which the witness owned.

PRINCE RUPERT, Oct. 30 (CP).—British Columbia Police organized patrols tonight to search for two motorcyclists en route from Fairbanks, Alaska, to New York, who have been unreported in the Northern wilderness country for more than a month.

The pair—Jim Logan and "Slim" Williams—were last seen on September 26 by Indians along the Klappan River, sixty miles southeast of Telegraph Creek, 250 miles north of here. At that time they had motorcycles and a pack horse. Police said they would have difficulty in operating their machines over the rough country.

Hugh Clarke, Hillcrest Logging Railwayman, Succumbs After Accident

Hugh Clarke, head brakeman for the Hillcrest Logging Company, died in hospital at Duncan yesterday afternoon, as a result of amputation of his legs when a shunting train pinioned him in loading operations near Hillcrest, according to advices to the Island division of the Provincial Police. He is survived by a wife and family resident at Hillcrest.

Details of the accident were not immediately available. It was understood, however, that Clarke had been standing in the rear of a logging train loading timber at the time. In some manner not yet ascertained, the cars were shunted, and the head brakeman was caught beneath the wheels. He was removed to hospital at Duncan, with his legs badly mangled, and succumbed a few hours afterwards.

An inquest was ordered, after investigation of the circumstances have been completed.

OTTAWA, Oct. 30 (AP).—Australian and New Zealand air experts are expected to arrive here by plane tomorrow night and by the week-end conferences possibly will begin with British and Canadian aviation officials concerning the Empire air training scheme.

Under the plan, military pilots from Britain, Australia and New Zealand will come to Canada to receive their intermediate and advanced training along with Canadian flyers. Elementary training will be done at home.

A British Air Mission, headed by Lord Riverdale, has been in Ottawa for the past two weeks preparing for the Empire conferences on the training scheme.

RECONNAISSANCE OF GERMANY'S AIRDROMES QUITE SUCCESSFUL

One R.A.F. Plane Missing—Others Gain Valuable Information and Photographs in Flight Over Enemy's Country—German Bombers Are Driven Off From Attack on Destroyers

First German Raider Over England Makes Its Escape

LONDON, Oct. 30 (AP).—Two German bombers were driven off from a flotilla of British destroyers in the North Sea today before they had done any damage, and Royal Air Force planes made extensive reconnaissance flights over Germany.

The British planes, according to the Air Ministry's communique, "made extensive reconnaissances of airdromes in Northern Germany and in spite of opposition much valuable information was gained and many photographs were taken." Up to midnight, the Ministry said, one British plane had not returned to its base.

Announcement of the battle off the Dogger Bank, in the North Sea, said there were no casualties on any of the British warships and that none of the vessels was damaged in the exchange of fire. It was not known whether the Germans suffered any casualties.

INVADER ESCAPES

The North Sea engagement came shortly after the first German air raider over England since the war's start was sighted on the Northeast coast. Aerial fighters went aloft, but the invading plane escaped, the Air Ministry said, before contact could be made. No bombs were dropped.

Previous German flights were directed at the Firth of Forth in Scotland and the Scapa Flow naval base in the Orkney Islands, rather than at England.

Air raid warnings sounded in London today for the first time since the first week of the war, but it developed they were sounded by mistake.

British fighter planes also went up today to investigate presence of an unidentified aircraft off the Essex coast. Alarms were sounded in the East Kent area, and the "all clear" signal was given about ten minutes later.

SUNK SINCE FRIDAY

Announcement was made today that three British ships, the Lynx II, St. Midan and the Malabar, the Norwegian vessel Varangmalm and the Finnish vessel Juno had been sunk since Friday. The Juno was VERA CRUZ, Mexico, Oct. 30 (AP).—The captain of the German passenger liner Columbus was reported missing in a storm which lashed Vera Cruz Harbor today.

The Columbus has been in refuge near here since the war began in Europe. The captain came here today with several members of the crew in a ship's launch. He left about midday for the twelve-mile trip to the Columbus' anchorage.

A storm blew up suddenly, bringing winds of almost hurricane force. Whether the launch beached or sank was not known, nor could newspapers learn the name of the captain.

TO SPEED BILL THROUGH HOUSE

Early Passage of Arms Embargo Repeal Expected At Washington

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP).—While a leader of the embargo bloc cried "gag rule," plans to speed the United States Neutrality Bill through the House of Representatives in short order were approved today by a majority of the House rules committee.

Representative Fish (Republican, New York), opponent of the Administration measure, especially of its proposal to repeal the arms embargo, contended the procedure adopted would deprive the House of its right to alter the form in which the measure came from the Senate. But Chairman Sabath (Democrat, Illinois) denied Fish's "gag" charges, arguing that the bill would be treated in the normal way.

SUBJECT TO APPROVAL

Under the procedure, subject to an hour's debate and a vote in the House tomorrow, the bill would be sent to a joint House-Senate conference committee for adjustment of differences between it and the measure the House passed earlier this year.

The most important difference is that the House bill would retain a modified ban against supplying belligerents with arms, whereas the Senate proposal would wipe out the present embargo.

MAY CLARIFY SOVIET VIEW

Premier to Address Supreme Council at Session Taking Over Polish Provinces

MOSCOW, Oct. 30 (AP).—Soviet Russia will set the stage tomorrow for welcoming "liberated" sections of Polish White Russia and the Western Ukraine into the Soviet Union and "Under the sun of Stalin."

The fifth extraordinary session of the Soviet Supreme Council, or Parliament, called to take over the two provinces returned to Russia by the German-Russian partition of Poland, is expected to last a week.

Well-informed circles were of the opinion the Premier and Foreign Commissar, Vyacheslaff Molotoff, would address the council on his foreign policy.

MAY CLARIFY STAND

Taking their cue from recent opinions expressed in the controlled Russian press, some diplomatic observers held it likely Molotoff would make a statement on Russia's attitude on the war. The press repeatedly has blamed Great Britain and France for carrying on an "imperialistic" war. Soviet newspapers also are beginning to criticize the United States, especially the pending legislation to repeal the arms embargo.

The time for convening the Supreme Council was not announced. Foreign correspondents usually are asked to the sessions, but tonight they had received no invitation.

Fourteen cars of a freight train piled up at Hopkinsville. No one was hurt.

German Prize Crew Takes City of Flint On Dangerous Route

United States Freighter Makes Brief Call at Tromsoe and Is Escorted From Norwegian Waters by Norwegian Warship

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Oct. 30 (AP).—The captive United States freighter City of Flint, which the Germans are trying to slip through the British blockade, proceeded on her dangerous southward way tonight after being escorted from Norwegian waters by a Norwegian warship.

Aboard were both her German prize crew of eighteen and her American crew of forty-two.

Reports from Tromsoe, in Northern Norway, that the freighter, alleged to carry contraband, had called at that port today, were confirmed by the German consul there, when he was reached by telephone.

DECLINES DETAILS

He said that he had gone aboard, but he declined to give further information.

Other details of the captive freighter's dangerous voyage through wartime waters were difficult to obtain, because of Norwegian Government regulations against disclosing the positions of ships at sea during wartime.

However, it was learned she had put in at the port at 1 p.m. (4 a.m. P.S.T.) and left three hours later.

Determined not to endanger the southward progress of their prize, German officials in Berlin maintained silence on the City of Flint

URGED TO STAY IN SAFE AREAS

Finnish Officials Warn People Critical Situation Is Not Changed

HELSINGFORS, Oct. 30 (AP).—Thousands of Finns, who have left Finland's cities for safer areas, were urged tonight to remain in the evacuation centres, while the Government prepared what political quarters indicated would be a firm "no" to Soviet Russian proposals. The actual subject of negotiations remained an official secret.

The Ministry of Interior in an announcement, said some Finns who left their homes at the first indication of possible trouble were returning, and that others were planning a similar move.

Government officials said the critical situation which caused the original exodus was not changed, and asked the Finns to remain "calmly" at the evacuation centres.

Meanwhile, translators in the Foreign Office worked on Finland's reply to Russia, which will be presented to Joseph Stalin and the Soviet Premier and Foreign Commissar, Vyacheslaff Molotoff, by a delegation expected to leave Helsingfors tomorrow night for Moscow.

EIGHT KILLED IN WRECK IN ITALY

Score More Sent to Hospitals After Train Collision in Streets In Milan

MILAN, Italy, Oct. 30 (AP).—At least eight persons were killed, twenty-one sent to hospitals and many others less seriously hurt tonight in one of Italy's worst train wrecks in recent years.

A Venice-Milan ten-car train collided with a fast Genoa-Rome electric car in the suburbs of Milan. An official communique said that the Venice train went against the signal at a fork of the tracks. The engineer of the Venice train and the conductor of the electric car were held for investigation.

The engineer of the electric train and a technician were killed. The engineer was Guiseppi Masser, forty, who designed a Breda Company electric train credited with a world speed of 120 miles an hour.

Chest Campaign Has First Rally to Arms Of Women's Division

Officers Announced at Meeting Held Yesterday at Home of Divisional Chairman, Miss Sara Spencer—$100,000 Is Objective

PREFACING their part in the forthcoming Community Chest and Red Cross joint appeal for $100,000, officers of the women's division of the campaign had their first rally-to-arms yesterday afternoon when they met at the home of Miss Sara Spencer, chairman of "C" division, for discussion of organization details and methods of work.

F. E. Winslow, Community Chest president; Duncan MacBride, campaign manager; Frank Paulding, campaign director; and Mrs. Kenneth Barr were present to represent the campaign committee and address the workers briefly.

Appointment of officers was announced as follows:

Chairman, Miss Sara Spencer; vice-chairman, Mrs. W. P. D. Pemberton.

Major, Mrs. W. H. Molson; captains, Mrs. J. W. Benning, Mrs. Ross Crane, Mrs. A. E. Harris and Mrs. George Sisman.

Major, Mrs. H. E. Ridewood; captains, Mrs. F. J. D. Pemberton, Mrs. Montague Bridgman, Mrs. George Hall and Miss Elizabeth Martin.

Major, Mrs. Norman Yarrow; captains, Mrs. Reed Paige Clark, Mrs. E. H. W. Elkington, Miss Theresa Todd and Mrs. C. F. Armstrong.

Major, Mrs. R. W. Mayhew; captains, Mrs. R. Wainman Wood, Mrs. Arthur Buckle, Mrs. E. Boydell and Mrs. J. H. Fletcher.

Major, Mrs. R. R. Taylor; captains, Mrs. P. Fitzsimmons, Mrs. Thorpe-Doubble, Miss Marcia Prior and Mrs. S. Winterbottom.

Major, Mrs. Alex Gillespie; captains, Mrs. Alan Fraser, Mrs. Duncan McBride, Mrs. L. O. Howard and Mrs. George Pottinger.

BUSINESS AS USUAL

While it was impossible to carry out literally His Majesty's injunction of "Business as usual," in one sense in which this was meant, namely, to maintain essential public institutions in the community, the present campaign was a right and proper thing, maintained Mr. MacBride, in his talk. All beneficiary organizations had, in response to the Community Chest appeal, carefully scrutinized their budgets for the purpose of cutting down wherever possible in view of the special claims that would be made on the Red Cross because of the war emergency. The result was that the Community Chest appeal this year would be for $65,000 of the $100,000 being asked for, the Red Cross to get the remainder.

Frank Paulding dealt specially with the workers' kit and with the type of record used. There were 600 workers lined up for the campaign, which had the endorsement of Lord Tweedsmuir, in his appeal to Canada to support its community undertakings.

MEETS OBLIGATIONS'

Mrs. Barr spoke on some of the objections that might be met by canvassers. Those who complained of the cost of collection and administration could truthfully be told that last year this was under 5 per cent, about the lowest in Canada, she said. Mrs. W. P. D. Pemberton also spoke briefly on some of the details.

The concluding part of the session was given to Miss Creasor, representing the Victorian Order of Nurses; Miss Yates, secretary of the Family Welfare Agency; Miss Lynn Mess, Children's Aid; and Miss Jones, general secretary of the Y.W.C.A., each of whom gave a brief resume of the work of the institutions which are among the important beneficiaries from the Community Chest.

F. E. Winslow concluded the programme with the encouraging information that this year he had had from 20 per cent to 150 per cent better response than last year from those whom he had approached, and he was confident that the ladies would have similar success.

Back in the days when Victoria was just a village, being charitable meant sharing what you had with a less fortunate friend. As we grew into a big city, busy with our own affairs, we could not meet the individual needs of our many neighbors. And so charitable organizations were started to help those in need.

There are now 24 of these welfare agencies in Victoria, doing unto others the very things you would do, if those in need were to come to your individual notice. These agencies need your support so that they may continue to give a helping hand to less fortunate friends and neighbors.

We realize that this may mean real sacrifice from you, but we are confident that you will respond generously, so that, on the Home Front as well as on the battlefield, suffering and tragedy may be relieved and lives remoulded "nearer to the heart's desire."

FAVORABLE TO PROPOSED ACT

Building Trade Units Endorse Principle of Contractors' Licence Law

Contractors, sub-contractors and others allied with the construction industry here gave approval to the proposed contractors' licence law, at a meeting in the Shrine Hall last night. The meeting was sponsored by the Victoria Builders' Exchange, with its president, L. G. Scott, in the chair.

It is now proposed to ask the Provincial Legislature at the present session to place the measure on the statutes of the Province. The intended act is now in bill form, and has been discussed in most of the important centres of British Columbia. It provides for administration of the industry through a seven-man board, on which would be one or more representatives of organized labor.

SELF-REGULATION

It is an act patterned after the methods of self-regulation now available to engineers, architects, barbers and hairdressers, and aimed to insure the maintenance of a reasonable standard of practice. Under the measure, fees would be charged by the board for licensing, based on the volume of business handled by each contractor.

Regulatory by-laws have yet to be fully drafted, but it was indicated at last night's meeting that they would probably be drastic in so far as they would apply to contractors attempting to infringe upon the act itself. Prosecution and fines are to be provided through the board, with the right of appeal to the courts given to the individual.

BOARD ELECTIVE

The board of administration would be elected by the contractors, and would serve without remuneration. Its members must be active in and familiar with the industry they would regulate.

A representative of the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council addressed the meeting and suggested that there be two members from organized labor on the board, and that the smaller contractors and those who would graduate from journeymen to contractors be given every protection.

At the meeting there was no opposition to the proposed bill itself, and the discussion was mainly on points of information concerning individual clauses and the methods of regulation intended.

A former prisoner at Buchenwald, in a statement communicated to the British Foreign Office on February 18, 1939, told of "tree-binding."

"If only a slight offence was committed, prisoners would be bound to a tree in such a way that they stood facing it, and, as if embracing it, their hands were pinioned together.

"The straps that bound them would be pulled so that they could barely move. Guards would play 'merry-go-round' with them; that is, they would force them to make their way round and round the tree. If they did not move quickly enough, it was usual to help them by kicking their ankles.

"Another form of the same punishment often ended fatally. The victim would be strapped to a tree facing outwards, his arms pulled back and around the tree trunk, then bound together. His thighs and feet—the latter only just touching the ground—would also be tied sufficiently tight to stop circulation. The prisoner would be left hanging in this position for hours at a time."

FREQUENT FLOGGINGS

Floggings were reported as very frequent in the concentration camp for small offences, such as drinking water during working hours, the White Paper said. Jews were told they were only being treated as their forefathers had been in Egypt and that Pharaoh had not gone "half far enough."

No Jews were allowed to report at sick parade. A Jew, it was said, could be only "well or dead." At roll call many who were unable to stand had to be held up so they could be seen from the front. Many, it was testified, ended their sufferings by pretending to attempt to escape, in order to be shot down.

Sir George Ogilvie-Forbes, formerly counsellor of the British Embassy at Berlin, revealed in the White Paper that early in the Nazi regime storm troopers regularly beat Jews outside the United States Consulate until American officials finally forced police to intervene.

LIKE DARKEST AGES

The British Government, in publishing these documents, recalled that the German Government had complained of maltreatment of German minorities in foreign countries and "Macedonian conditions" reigning there. "It may be seen," stated the White Paper, "from the publication of these papers that under the present regime conditions in Germany itself and the treatment accorded Germans are reminiscent not of Macedonia, but of the darkest ages of the history of man."

The White Paper listed accounts of systematic looting of Jewish properties after the killing in Paris of the German Consular official, Ernest vom Rath, in November, 1938. And going back to 1933 when Hitler assumed power, the Paper reports that "members of opposition parties were arrested wholesale and confined in concentration camps where they were subjected to the most barbarous treatment."

TERRIBLE VENGEANCE

"Flogging and torture were the order of the day, and it is common knowledge in Germany that the National Socialist movement was taking a terrible vengeance on those who had the temerity to oppose it."

A certain "Herr Z." described the scene at Buchenwald as filth and mud up to the knees. It was almost impossible to walk. Flesh was torn from his face, which was so disfigured as to be unrecognizable. About 10,000 men were in the camp but only 100 straw sacks were available as beds. The men were obliged to lie on their sides. Lying on their backs was forbidden under pain of blows. Sentries were ordered to use rifles without warning.

CONFERS IN TURKEY

Rumania's leading diplomat, Vasile Stoica, ambassador to Turkey, has been conferring with King Carol and Foreign Minister Grigore Gafencu for seeral days. He is scheduled to leave for Sofia tomorrow on a special mission.

Rumania is anxious for the formation of a strong neutral bloc in the Balkans. Italy has been discussed in foreign circles as the leader of such a bloc if it could be formed.

Stoica, it was understood, will express Rumania's willingness to make concessions to the Bulgarian minority in Dobruja.

Confidence was increasing in Government circles that Russia will not move precipitously into Bessarabia. For the moment Rumania has two allies in Bessarabia — mud and typhoid. An invading army would have to face both.

RUSSIA'S KEY STATION

SOFIA, Oct. 30 (AP).—Increased Russian attention to Bulgaria was indicated today in reports the Soviet legation here will be expanded to form Russia's key diplomatic station for all the Balkans except Turkey.

It was learned from reliable sources that Adkadii Lavrentikiff, new Soviet Minister to Sofia, was expected tomorrow with at least two new secretaries for his already-increased staff.

and her attempt to dodge the British blockade. Until the ship docks, Berlin officials declared, "there will be no information about this ship."

NEAR HALF-WAY MARK

Tromsoe, in Northern Norway, is about 500 miles from Murmansk, which is above the Arctic Circle, and more than 800 miles from Hamburg.

The reported call at Tromsoe was the second time in ten days she had visited that port.

On October 20 the City of Flint, under her German prize crew put aboard by the German pocket battleship Deutschland, arrived at Tromsoe to land thirty-eight seamen from two sunken British freighters.

The reports from Tromsoe provided the first clue to the vessel's progress since Saturday night, when official Russian sources said she had sailed from Murmansk, the Russian port in the Arctic.

MAY CLARIFY SOVIET VIEW

Unofficial figures received today on the Russian-Lithuanian agreement on the return of Wilno (Vilna) showed that whereas the Poles in 1920 took 10,400 square miles from the Lithuanians, a territory which, according to the 1931 census, had a population of 1,230,000, Soviet Russia returned to Lithuania a territory of 2,603 square miles with a population of 326,000. Of the 326,000 returned population, 210,000 were believed to be in the city of Wilno alone.

If these figures are correct they would indicate the U.S.S.R. gave back roughly one-fourth of what the Poles took from the Lithuanians. No official maps or documents concerning the exchange have been published here.

and the other two Dominions when they meet.

The plan is based on Canada's present training course which turns out fighting airmen in twenty-eight weeks. Empire airmen, taking only intermediate and advanced stages, will probably receive sixteen weeks' training in this country

PROBABLE PROCEDURE

The Empire air parley will probably review the cost allocation to be made between the countries concerned and details of the whole plan will be discussed

The tentative outline which is likely to be presented by the Canadian aviation experts will include suggestions for construction of new airports and utilization of many airports now being used by Trans-Canada Air Lines. The national air service will not be curtailed, however, in this arrangement.

Areas considered suitable for new air training fields are located in Western Ontario, the Prairies, sections of the Eastern townships in Quebec and Eastern New Brunswick, according to sources here.

reported sunk by an explosion, the others by "enemy action."

The fishermen of the trawler St. Midan reported they were shipwrecked twice in one night by a submarine, whose commander said: "It's not you fellows we want, it's Chamberlain."

They would have been shipwrecked a third time, but the submarine apparently mistook another trawler for a warship. Hardly had the trawler Lynx II picked them up after the St. Midan went down when it, too, was sunk. Then the trawler Lady Hogarth appeared and the submarine fled.

Tonight nineteen of the twenty-three persons aboard the Finnish steamer Juno, 1,241 tons, were landed in England by the Norwegian ship Minona. The Juno sank in the North Sea today after an explosion.

NEW DEVELOPMENT

A new development in air raid precautions was the offering of backyard shelters to the public on an installment purchase plan. The shelters can be bought outright or on a monthly payment plan at costs ranging from about $27 to $40, depending on the size.

The Ministry of Home Security stated tonight "an official inquiry has been made into the sounding of air raid sirens in Central London this morning. It appears that at one police barracks a message was wrongly interpreted and sirens were sounded accordingly."

KEEPING WATCH

Meanwhile, Great Britain kept close watch on the Russian-Finnish negotiations in the hope of gaining enlightenment on the real intentions of the Soviets.

A "reasonable conclusion" to the Soviet-Finnish talks, for which Viscount Halifax has expressed a hope, would, in the opinion of informed observers, intensify the political demands here for fresh initiative to improve political and trade relations with Russia.

Sir C. M. Zafrullah Khan, trade specialist on the executive council of the Viceroy of India, arrived in London tonight to confer with British officials. He will represent India in the series of conferences which begin Wednesday between officials of the United Kingdom and the Dominions.

Hon. T. A. Crerar, Canadian Minister of Mines and Natural Resources, who arrived here Saturday to represent Canada at the Imperial discussions, said today he had come "with only one object in view—to insure, as far as we can, that Canada's full co-operation with Great Britain, France and the other Dominions shall be forthcoming to bring the war to a successful conclusion in the shortest possible time."

Mrs. Jamieson was sworn in yesterday, and Mr. McGrath will take the oaths of office today.

Presentation of annual reports from departmental offices and adjournment will follow the brief opening ceremonies, with the main debate to open next day. Thomas King (Liberal, Columbia) and Glen E. Braden (Liberal, Peace River) will lead off on Wednesday for the Government side.

All members of the House were gathering yesterday, in preparation for the opening today. At the head of the Conservatives, R. L. Maitland, K.C., M.P.P., will continue as leader of the official Opposition. The Liberal caucus is expected to hold its first meeting this week, under its own officers. H. E. Winch, M.P.P., will enter the session as acknowledged leader of the C.C.F. block in the House.

British Army Corps On Western Front Unceasingly Alert

Steady Progress Being Made in Preparation of Additional Defences—Vast Maintenance Problem Kept Well in Hand

WITH THE BRITISH EXPEDITIONARY FORCE SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE, Oct. 30 (CP-Reuter's).—Men of the First and Second Army Corps, holding the forward positions of the British zone in France, are kept unceasingly on the alert, ready to spring to arms at the first sign of enemy action.

Pillboxes and blockhouses which they have taken over from the French are manned night and day, although there is still no sign of any thrust by the Germans.

Steady progress continues in the preparation of additional defences in the way of fire trenches, breastworks and tank traps. Correspondents have seen units in the front line—troops that include the flower of the British Army; guards' battalions, Highland regiments, men of the counties of England, who carry on the proud traditions of Britain's infantry, tackling problems that faced their fathers during the Winters out here a score or so of years ago; fighting cold and wet and, especially, mud.

TO MOVE AND TO FIGHT

"The first job of any army in the field is to move and to fight," a high officer from general headquarters said today.

The B.E.F. can be described as being "on its toes." It is not only ready to repel a possible enemy attack; it is aso being kept ready for an instant advance. Some time the full story will be told of the organization that enabled Great Britain to send across the English Channel scores of thousands of men and the thousands of motor vehicles necessary to keep a modern army supplied.

First, there came to France a band of men, turned overnight into soldiers, who could supply the skilled labor of unloading transports, of preparing depots and transporting overland hundreds of miles eastward the men and material which today comprise the front-line fighting forces.

BASE DEPOTS ORGANIZED

Vast base depots had to be organized. Railways had to be laid down. Some half-dozen railheads had to be prepared. Beyond these, reserve depots had to got ready, so that troops in forward positions might always rely on supplies, even if the lines of communication from the bases should temporarily be interrupted.

Some idea of the maintenance problem may be got from the fact that the B.E.F. has to be supplied with 650 tons of gasoline a day and with supplies at the rate of 90,000 tons a month.

Yet it may now be revealed that the army actually arrived in the present forward positions with three days' supplies of food on hand and with 500 tons of gasoline to spare. The twin problems of mobility and maintenance are the concern of the quarter-master general.

Having got the spearhead of Britain's strength on land into position, the business of the quarter-master general is to keep the front-line troops in supplies and at the same time insure their ability to move into action at a moment's notice.

Plan Committee For Revision of Electoral Laws

COMPULSORY registration of provincial voters will be discussed before a special House committee on the Provincial Elections Act, along with other suggested changes in the law, Premier Pattullo said yesterday. The proposal, however, will reach the committee without Government direction, as part of the recommendations were advanced by electoral officers last year and not dealt with then. The compulsion would apply to registration, and not extend to voting.

CONTEST PLANS WELL UNDER WAY

At a meeting of the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce last night, W. C. Mearns, chairman of the third annual residential lighting contest committee, reported that plans for the event were well under way and that this year's contest probably would be even larger than those of previous years.

The meeting pointed out that the contest was not a commercial venture, but was designed purely for the beautification of the city during the Christmas season.

The chamber traffic committee promised the full support and co-operation to Chief of Police John A. MacLellan in any traffic campaign which the chief may have in mind.

Alex Hall, who recently returned from a trip to Europe, where he attended the first World Youth Conference in Amsterdam, Holland, as a representative of the local Y.M.C.A., recounted several interesting highlights of the conference and his journeys through several of the countries.

CANADA WOULD SHARE BURDEN

Vancouver Board of Trade Suggests Voluntary Contributions to Britain

A communication from the Vancouver Board of Trade, asking the Federal Government to adopt the principle and policy of assisting Great Britain in the war against Germany by regular substantial voluntary contributions of foodstuffs and other requirements, was endorsed by the board of directors of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce yesterday. Acting upon the Mainland board's request, representations will be made to R. W. Mayhew, M.P., to have this suggestion carried out.

The preamble to the resolution pointed out that at the outset of the war Canada's main contribution must be in readily available resources rather than in men and equipment.

Canadian people would share the heavy burden of the British people, according to the resolution, the Dominion Government granting credits to the Imperial Government, to be used as desired, up to a specified total value. The cost would be borne by this country as a whole, by individual taxation.

STILL EXPORTING

The British Empire Overseas Branch, writing from Toronto, asked the chamber to remind citizens that British goods were still being exported to Canada and were on sale here. The communication read in part as follows: "Frequently Canadian citizens, and even Canadian business organizations, are under the impression that Empire goods, and especially goods from the United Kingdom are not, will not, be available for the Canadian market owing to the outbreak of war."

Duncan MacBride, chairman, reported that J. E. Goldring and J. A. Heritage had been appointed industrial co-ordinators and were interviewing industrial concerns interested in the manufacture here of goods needed by Britain and Canada for the prosecution of the war. The co-ordinators will present a detailed report of their findings to the next meeting of the directors.

CHAMBER COMMITTEE

Harold Husband, W. T. Straith, M.P.P.; E. W. McMullen and Mr. MacBride constitute the Chamber of Commerce committee that is co-operating with the Canadian Manufacturers' Association to make a complete survey of the Victoria situation, which in turn, will be forwarded to Mr. Mayhew at Ottawa for presentation to the proper departments for tendering.

Four other persons, besides Mrs. Taylor's daughter, were killed in various accidents—three in industrial mishaps and one by drowning.

Large Number of Officers Engaged For Hallowe'en

A FRIENDLY warning that no willful damage to property would be tolerated on Hallowe'en was issued by Chief J. A. McLellan yesterday. While no attempt would be made to stop any wholesome fun, the chief urged boys and girls not to disturb sick persons, and to keep away from the vicinity of hospitals and nursing homes. A force of 100 regular officers and special constables will patrol the city to keep order.

BONFIRE PLANS ARE COMPLETED

Many Fires Arranged for Entertainment of Children On Hallowe'en

Tonight at 7 o'clock an event eagerly awaited by hundreds of children throughout Greater Victoria will begin, when several large bonfires are lighted in the city and surrounding districts as the main public observance of Hallowe'en here.

These fires will be adequately supervised and are intended to provide wholesome entertainment for the youngsters. Contests will be held, and prizes will be awarded for the best costumes; candy, peanuts and other edibles will be distributed, and traveling groups of entertainers will visit each bonfire.

LOCATIONS OF FIRES

Locations of the city fires follow: Oswego and Niagara Streets, on Garbally Road west of Douglas Street; Victoria West School; Central Park near Queens Avenue and Quadra Street; Spencer Park before Oaklands School, and St. Charles and Brooke Streets. The Kinsman Club will be in charge at Central Park, and at each of the other locations the Parent-Teacher Association of the district will be in control. Members of the police and fire departments will be stationed at each fire.

In Oak Bay, a large bonfire will be held on Monterey Avenue, outside the fire hall, under the supervision of the fire department. Children of the Cadboro Bay district will be entertained at a fire to be lighted at the playground, Maynard and Hobbs Streets. William Inglis will be in charge.

At the corner of Fraser Street and Esquimalt Road, in Esquimalt, another fire will be held exclusively for children of that municipality and Craigflower district. Featured will be a dress parade with first and second prizes; a mystery man and woman, with awards for the boy or girl identifying each; and a tombola prize, tickets for which will be given to each elementary and high school pupil. Frank Merryfield, "the Cornish Wizard," and an unidentified band are expected to be in attendance. Reeve Alex Lockley and the municipal council, assisted by the school board, will be in charge. The master of ceremonies will be E. S. Blair.

A bonfire for the children of Mount Tolmie and the Cedar Hill districts will be lighted near the Mount Tolmie C.C.F. Hall. Prizes for the best costumes will be given, and a group of Betti Clair's pupils will perform between 8 and 9 o'clock. There will also be music by the "One-Man Band." Apples, candies and nuts will be distributed.

DECIVILIZATION OF GERMANY

The events that led up to the present War have aroused so much interest that the British Blue Book, giving the exchange of correspondence and cables between Sir Neville Henderson and the British Government and other germane matters, has proved a best seller. In the first week after its publication 200,000 copies were bought. There has been, however, but little information obtainable as to the reaction of the German people to the course of events that has proved there is a limit to Herr Hitler's series of bloodless conquests. Some light on this is shed in an article by a correspondent of The Times, of London, who was lately in Germany. He was evidently present at the Reichstag meeting of September 1, when war against Poland was announced by Herr Hitler. He describes it as the quietest Reichstag meeting during six years of National-Socialist rule, with the Deputies in a state of "mute bewilderment."

When Germany negotiated her mutual assistance pact with Russia the Reichstag Deputies were "stupefied" by the news. Many "gloated" over the "cunning cynicism" of the move; others were shocked by its "bare faithlessness." They all believed that it established peace, but were disillusioned when they found that it led to war. This, the correspondent describes, as "a grave moral defeat" for the Fuehrer at the very outset of hostilities. There was a realization that "the legend of the peaceful conqueror was disproved and the deity of the Obersalzberg shown to be fallible." Despite the treaty with Russia, the masses in Germany still believed that anti-Communism was still the regime's device. When that impression was removed the regime stood "nakedly aggressive." The correspondent quoted believes that was a second loss to the Fuehrer's authority. He goes on to say:

"Were the war limited to the campaign against Poland the deficiency would not matter. The Eastern offensive can be depicted by propaganda, and is being depicted as a deed of liberation . . . The German people entered war disconcerted to find themselves fighting at all, and if the campaign against Poland should soon be terminated, lacking a positive end for which to continue to fight. They had been tossed by the regime from crisis to crisis, and when the greatest crisis of all arrived they were jaded and strained. The severe personal restrictions since imposed—heavy penalties are imposed on those who listen to foreign broadcasts or spread foreign propaganda—are not calculated to raise listless spirits. More than in peace, the nation is being pressed under the iron control of the National-Socialist movement . . . The leaders of the National-Socialist party have, in the last few weeks, committed gigantic errors of diplomacy and propaganda. Despite apparently brusque changes of policy and attitude, they have been, and still are, unable to depart from a rigid and well-known pattern . . . Such is the predicament in which they have today landed themselves that they are drawn as to a mirage by the very illusion they have set for others. The hopes placed in Russian friendship, and in the ability of that friendship to supply the Reich with food and raw materials, are fantastically high. They are the best proof, if proof were needed, that the regime has caught itself in its own toils."

The correspondent goes on to allude to German propaganda intended to prove that the efforts of the Western democracies in the War are half-hearted and divided, and every effort is made to show the willfulness of "British infringement of neutral rights." This is designed to convince the South-Eastern States that they should remain neutral and supply Germany with those materials which will enable her to withstand a blockade. The correspondent, however, believes that the reserves of Germany, material and moral, are largely dissipated. The National-Socialist party, he says, "hopes to whirl the people far on its own dynamism, crushing from the start every attempt at active opposition and clinging to the last to its power. In its career towards its own destruction it will probably destroy the few values that still remain intact in Germany. But that its destruction will come is the prayer of many thousands of Germans who have watched with pain the decivilization of their country."

CENSORSHIP

Censorship in Great Britain is being much berated these days. There is recognition of its necessity, but, because of the seemingly irreconcileable elements in its enforcement, and because also of the delays it has occasioned in the delivery of mails, there is growing complaint. A traveler crossing from England to France records that for the journey he bought a number of London newspapers and magazines. They were confiscated before he was allowed to embark, and yet, twenty paces farther on and over the gangway, the same newspapers were being freely sold aboard, and were on sale also at the French port of disembarkation. The traveler when he was returning consigned to the deep his French, Dutch and Belgian newspapers, and, "shining with conscious virtue," submitted himself to Customs examination. He found, however, to quote his own words, that "criminal tendencies are not easily suppressed even by the will to repentance." He had an English novel in his suitcase. This "contraband of war" was seized. He asks, and with some excuse, for a move "to succor the shaken sanity of the censorship."

There have been in England and elsewhere, complaints about the delays in delivery of newspapers sent through the mails to subscribers. It is admitted that there is a possibility of letters containing information being slipped into such newspapers, but even taking this into account, the delays are inexplicable. Canadian correspondents in Great Britain complain that there has been an interval of three or four weeks in the receipt of newspapers from Canada. It has been the same in this country in the matter of British newspapers. Delays in this respect may be explained in part by a lack of shipping for the carriage of mails, but only in part. There are delays that are inexcusable and inexplicable. Censorship by now should be working smoothly and not be causing continuous irritation.

A WINTER SEASON

British Columbia's appeal as a Winter travel land, long known to those who reside here, bids fair this year to reach a wider audience than ever. Efforts being continued by the two transcontinental railway systems, in association with provincial and urban publicity bureaus, are not only well worth while, but should be backed up to the limit by all agencies, public and private.

In spite of war time conditions, Winter travel on this continent is likely to be greater than before, because so many normal channels have been shut off to that movement. Supporting the drive by transportation and public agencies, the public can do much to attract a fair share of this movement to the Pacific Coast. No opportunity should be lost to point out benefits British Columbia enjoys from its favored climatic and geographical position.

Hunters and fishermen, for a long time, have come to this Province in search of its manifold sports. Trail-riders and alpinists have been no less welcome, in search of its scenic playgrounds. Open air golf, ski runs, indoor bathing, fresh air and sunshine, and a range and diversity of scenery that cannot be surpassed, all await the traveler who will venture west of the Rockies in Winter.

Citizens living in British Columbia know these things well, but they often neglect to tell their friends at a distance about them. That is a mistake that can be cured in the next mail, and at the cost of a single postage stamp. Nature has given British Columbia all of the assets with which to make an outstanding Winter travel season; one that should benefit every section of the province. Nature stops there. Man must do the rest.

GERMANY'S BLOCKADED TRADE

Based on figures for 1938, the following proportion of German imports were from countries that are now subject to blockade: copper ore, 95.3 per cent; manganese ore, 65.5; nickel ore, 100; zinc ore, 100; pyrites, 79.3; antimony ore, 100; tin ore, 70.7; chrome ore, 94.5; crude oil, 74.2; benzine, 76.3; gas oil, 92.6; asbestos, 92.5; cotton, 100; rubber, 100. These percentages were compiled by Guenter Reimann, a German engineer and economist now living in the United States, and were put forward in an exhaustive survey of the German position in the present War. In concluding, the writer says:

"Economic life and war morale in Nazi Germany today are at least as strained as they were under the Kaiser in 1917, during the third year of totalitarian warfare. Mr. Chamberlain's announcement that England would prepare for a three-year war appears to be based on a realistic and sober calculation, although the author would not be surprised if the German war machine collapsed much earlier."

New Brunswick is to have a provincial election on November 20. For the year ending October 31, 1938, that Province had a budget with a credit balance of $59,410. If it equals or exceeds that at the end of the present month, Premier Dysart and his colleagues can make their appeal to the people with excellent prospects of success. There is no better election issue than a balanced budget, except one with a surplus.

SUPPLIANT

Grant me, O Lord, the alchemy of toil,
Clean days of labor, dreamless nights of rest
And that which shall my weariness assoil,
The sanctuary of one beloved breast;
Laughter of children, hope and thankful tears,
Knowledge to yield, with valor to defend
A faith immutable, and steadfast years
That move unvexed to their mysterious end.

—Alan Sullivan.

Note and Comment

By SANDHAM GRAVES

Two sessions down and with two to go, the third session of the Nineteenth Legislature will be opened at 3 o'clock this afternoon by His Honor, the Lieutenant-Governor. For a little while, Victoria will be the headquarters of representatives of the people, elected from some forty ridings of the province and occupying forty-eight seats. If for no other reason than that these men and women come from all corners of the province, with ideas, thoughts and suggestions that are valid there, their presence should be welcome. But there are many other reasons.

One of the highest functions given to man, and distinguishing him from other animals, is his power of reasoning. In proportion as he uses this power will he lift himself above the beasts. As he neglects it, so on himself will fall the consequences of that neglect. Only a child would pretend that all men should think alike. The plain fact is that as they differ in face, voice, fingerprints, and in many other ways, so men differ in their thoughts. The British way for men who disagree is, not to fight, but to debate.

You may hear it said at times that parliament is a debating society, as if that were something sinful and wrong. One of the chief functions of a legislature is to debate; to turn over matters of public importance on all sides, so that in the end men may agree on that proportion of the case which may be found common to all. Only from agreement can action spring; that is, action which has behind it both the will and the heart. And men, all men, are curiously moved by their hearts, deny it how they will.

A more valid criticism of parliament might be that the strength of debate is sometimes lost in its forms and incidental manoeuvres. In other words, that debate becomes insincere. But insincerities bring their own cure. Few men listen long to words that are barren of ideas; no matter how eloquently they may be delivered, no matter in what form, and despite all flourishes. It is the ideas that really count; and in a province as large as British Columbia one may hear a surprising number of them.

In true debate, personalities are left unsaid; the case for the opponent is treated with respect; the substantive arguments for one's own case are advanced in an orderly sequence, and with some economy of words. A good case is one, in short, that will stand on its own feet, long after the debater has sat down. A poor case is ever one in which side issues, spleen, and other irrelevant matters are brought in to hide the paucity of the argument. Some of the most effective debaters in parliament are men with a rare economy of words, but rich in ideas that are opportune to the time.

Debates in a provincial legislature carry most weight, both inside and outside where they are heard, when they deal with provincial subjects. Time devoted to national issues in a provincial assembly is time wasted; and space given to arguments which could only logically be advanced before a world parliament, lacking a world parliament, is space thrown away. British Columbia, large as it is, has a strictly limited field in which action may be applied. And thought without action is meaningless.

For another reason, however, the presence of forty-eight legislators in Victoria ought to mean something tangible and real. By way of report, they bring word of what is happening in their own ridings. Before the growth of the telegraph this was largely how man obtained his knowledge of places remote from where he lived. In a House of forty-eight seats, too, are forty-eight contacts with humanity; and humanity, after all, is the stuff of life itself.

From Atlin to the southern boundary of the province, from Esquimalt to the summit of the Rockies, the Nineteenth Legislature is a reasonable cross section of British Columbia. Mining, lumbering, farming, fishing, and all other pursuits are represented, and, for a moment, have a voice. It is the part of wisdom to listen to that voice, at least once a year, and to expect from it, not the worst, but the best of which it is capable. After all, parliament is a debating society, and it is filled with men and women very much like you. True debate is the pathway to reason, the highest attribute of man.

"We can't have any fun this evening. All I have in my pocket is some small change."

"Well, what do you think it takes to send my kid brother to the movie? A five-dollar bill?"

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of October 31, 1889)

Kootenay News—Sheriff Redgrave reports that mining operations in the neighborhood of Golden are satisfactory. The claims on Jubilee Mountain are opening out well and have recently been bonded for good figures. A seam of coal, eight feet in thickness, has been discovered three miles from Golden, and existing on both sides of the railway track.

Building Improvements—The architect is preparing the plans for a three-story brick building with basement to replace the present structures on the old Musketeers corner. This is the kind of building to erect, and Messrs. Wilson and Dalby are to be congratulated for their enterprise. There are buildings recently erected in the city whose roofs will in a couple of years be torn off to carry the structure further skyward. The need of a hall for concerts, assemblies and like amusements is urgently required, and it is hoped some of the new buildings to be erected will supply the need.

A Civic Holiday—In honor of the visit of His Excellency the Governor-General and Lady Stanley, His Worship the Mayor has issued a proclamation appointing today a civic holiday. It is expected that the day will be observed as such by all good citizens, and all places of business will be closed during the afternoon.

ENGLISH DIPLOMAT HOLIDAYING HERE

Visitor Is Son of Famous French-Canadian Soprano—Retiring From Foreign Service

Son of a distinguished and world-famous French-Canadian mother, Ernest Frederick Gye, C.M.G., is holidaying in Victoria at present, before going home to England at the completion of thirty-six years in Great Britain's diplomatic service.

Mr. Gye was until July of this year minister plenipotentiary to Venezuela, having held that post since 1936. He entered the British Foreign Office in 1903 and has had a distinguished career as a world diplomat. He was minister to Tangier from 1933 to 1936.

Mr. Gye's mother was the renowned Madame Albani, one of the greatest sopranos in the world of her time. She wrote her wonderful life-story in "Forty Years of Song," published in 1911, and died in 1930 at the age of eighty.

A month ago Mr. Gye visted Montreal, where he participated in the unveiling of a tablet in memory of his mother, placed at her old home at Chambly on the Richelieu, near Montreal, under the auspices of the Historic Monuments Commission.

The retiring diplomat is staying at the Angela Hotel while here, and will afterwards return to London, to close officially his association with Great Britain's Foreign Office.

Glancing Over Sport

Do you know that Henry Cotton, former British open golf champion and one of the best club swingers in the professional business, is now in the Royal Navy in the Old Country? . . . Correction from the sports department regarding Roy Riegels' famous reverse run ten years ago in the Rose Bowl football classic. Riegels played for California and not Alabama and never scored as I stated, but was pulled down near the line by some of his teammates, who realized that Roy never knew he was heading the wrong way . . . All my predictions were on the right side of the ledger last Saturday but some of the margins I handed out were out plenty . . . Here's some advice to the officials of the Victoria Football Club. More Gordie Bell back to his proper position at right wing. Gordie's clever work is wasted at the inside berth, as could be seen in last Saturday's inter-city match . . . Notice to the City School Board: Move the city basketball league teams back to the High School before it's too late. The Fernwood gymnasium is available to other associations, so why shouldn't the cagers be given a better deal? . . . One more big push and the Revellers would have posted the biggest surprise of the grid season by downing K. of C. last week in Vancouver. Imagine being three yards from the pay-off territory and unable to get over. That's the breaks of the game, boys, so don't worry, your performance has boosted your stock 100 per cent.—J.D.

Trapped in Furnace

"Big John," the bluecoat, knows what it is to be stuck inside a furnace. Several cold nights convinced the policeman that his pipeless job was in need of extensive repairs to the roof of the fire box. He accumulated some tools and furnace cement and lifted off the floor grating. Finding that his arms were not long enough to reach down, he slithered his 225 pounds into the furnace feet first. Before "Big John" had a chance to get to work he found his number twelve "beetle crushers" firmly wedged in the pipe. He could not move up or down. A frantic call brought Mrs. John to the scene, but she was unable to help her mate out of his dilemma. "Call the police. Do something. It's past supper time. I can't stay here," "Big" John" bellowed. So his better half telephoned "Black Nick," a brother officer. "Please come as quickly as you can. He is stuck in the furnace," she entreated. "What made him crawl in the furnace? Was he trying to get warm?" Nick asked. "No, no. He was trying to fix it. Please come and help pull him out," Mrs. John urged. "Light a fire under him. That will make him get out in a hurry," Nick advised. But "Black Nick" finally relented and helped pull "Big John" out of his tin casing. He made matters worse by inquiring if "Big John" was trying out the furnace as an air raid shelter. —G.B.

ATLIN WILL RECALL DR. YOUNG'S WORK

(Contributed)

News of the death of Dr. Henry Esson Young, on October 24, brought wistful memories and deep regret to those who lived in Atlin when and during the several years before Dr. Young represented that constituency in the Legislature of British Columbia.

These friends and admirers were closely associated with him in what were probably the most picturesque years of his long and useful life. Above all else they recall his remarkable gift of silence, half natural, half professional, which endeared him to his patients and to the people of the entire district. At all times "the boys on the creeks" hailed his coming. Here was one man in whom they could confide their troubles, their hopes and their ambitions, with the certainty that their confidence would be strictly guarded and that a friendly interest and sound judgment would dictate the asked for advice. He understood their problems for he had prospected himself, fished and fought fires with the best of them. In times of illness no trail was ever too long, no effort too great when human suffering could be alleviated or human life saved. The welfare of young mothers and little children was his constant concern. He induced his patients to come down to the hospital, thus insuring proper care and treatment for those who required it, and at the same time increasing the Government grant per patient, which to a great extent enabled the Presbyterian Mission Hospital in Atlin to carry on so successfully its good work. Critical operations, frequently in emergencies, were unflinchingly performed, often with the aid of his friend, Rev. F. L. Stephenson, beloved pioneer of pioneers, administering the anesthetic.

During the past thirty-five years Dr. Young was blessed with the companionship of his gifted wife, Rosalind Watson Young, whose informed interest was of immeasurable help in overcoming the difficulties and surmounting the obstacles to be met with in his varied career; and together they shared to the fullest extent the comfort and inspiration of a devoted family.

As chief of the Department of Public Health, Dr. Young gave himself entirely to the development of his plans for the Province of British Columbia, in which he won singular success and the acclaim of the medical profession; but when the story of Atlin will be written, the record of his early work there will claim a special chapter all its own.

LADYSMITH CITY COUNCIL MEETS

LADYSMITH, Oct. 28.—Postponed from the regular date because of the annual convention of municipalities at Victoria, the fortnightly city council meeting was held Friday afternoon. Alderman Jameson occupied the chair in the absence of Mayor Walkem, at another meeting.

The local Red Cross Society is functioning actively, and was given permission to use the council chamber for its meetings.

N. A. Morrison was appointed assessor. The city owns some timber near the earth dam near McLeod Creek, and plans are being made to have the timber cruised.

Alderman Jameson reported upon the municipal convention at Victoria, and noted the nature of the more important resolutions passed, particularly on school taxation and on the manner of the new war tax on consumer electricity rates.

During the meeting, business was adjourned to discuss local hospital problems with the hospital board and Provincial Government representatives.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Esquimalt Drydock at any tide, add 38 feet to the height of high water as above given.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of lower low water.

Men Enjoined To Stay in Posts

BROKEN HILL, Northern Rhodesia, Oct. 30 (CP-Reuter's).—Sir John Maybin, Governor of Northern Rhodesia, today enjoined men in the European and African communities to remain at vital posts here, such as work on the railways and in metallurgical plants. He said enthusiasm was so great in support of the British cause, that many men in important jobs wanted to leave the territory for more active service.

PACIFIC TO BE TRADE CARRIER

George Murray Predicts Development by Britain To Meet War Needs

Addressing the Gyro Club yesterday in the Empress Hotel, George Murray, member for Lillooet, praised the attitude taken by R. L. Maitland, K.C., leader of the Opposition in the Provincial Legislature, on his stand in favor of making the session of the Legislature as short as possible and the removal of all unnecessary bitterness in connection with proceedings. Mr. Murray added that he felt that this was no time for political speeches.

Mr. Murray expressed the opinion that in view of the great importance of the Pacific in the carrying trade of the future, Victoria, as the first Canadian port on it, should be awake to its potential importance.

He felt convinced that Germany had her eye on the Pacific and the part that it was to play in the future trade of the world. The British Empire controlled in large measure the future of the Pacific wealth which had to be developed.

Germany had her eye on the Suez and, with the help of Russia, sought to get control, Mr. Murray continued. In this move it was the hope of Russia and Germany to control trade.

PACIFIC TRADE

He referred to Australia as a continent in itself, and to the importance of New Zealand as far as production and trade were concerned. There was a duty put on the Empire to develop these parts, he declared.

Another section of the address of the member for Lillooet was devoted to the means of developing mineral and other production in this province as an aid to winning the war. The aluminum products of this country might be used in the manufacture of airplanes, doing away with the necessity of importing from British Guinea. Lillooet and Sooke abounded in this product, he said.

As a war measure, Mr. Murray advised the increasing of beef and sheep production, which at present fell far short of supplying the needs of the province. Increased sheep production also might aid in the development of the woolen industry. Various other lines in which development could be carried out were referred to by the speaker.

Reginald Rutherford, of Kelowna, vice-president of Gyro International, was present, and spoke briefly, expressing thanks for the support that had been given him in his election to the position. Fred McLeod, president of the Penticton club, was also a visitor, and spoke briefly.

DUPLESSIS HAS COLD

QUEBEC, Oct. 30 (CP).—Premier Duplessis, leader of the defeated Union Nationale Government, today was confined to his hotel here, suffering from a cold. It is expected a meeting of his Cabinet—last session before the reins of government are turned over to the Liberals—will be held later this week.

FOR many years, Britain and the Empire have been the chief markets for British Columbia's lumber. Britain's and the Empire's purchases of our forest products have kept our mills busy, our loggers at work and new money flowing in here through all the channels of business.

The war has compelled Britain to turn more and more to Canada for supplies. How can she pay for these exports from Canada? In the end, only by selling Canada her own goods in exchange.

Before the war, when Britain was our good customer, we owed it to her to buy all we could of her goods. Now more than ever, when the British Empire comes to Canada to buy the essentials of war, we should help her and help ourselves, when we require goods from outside Canada by "Buying British". This we should do as part of the common cause, as a small part of our contribution to the war.

We should do it also, because it will facilitate the whole process of war buying and enable Britain and the other Empire countries to pay for much of what they need as they go along. And it will build up for the future, for the years when the war is won and over, a trade that we shall never lose.

The timber industry of British Columbia, which has prospered on British and Empire orders and given prosperity to British Columbia, is buying British whenever it can. It is buying all the wire rope, machinery and equipment possible in Britain.

Most of the Timber Industry's purchasing must be done in British Columbia, through wages paid to its workers and by them to other Canadians. These people are the consumers who can buy British and Empire goods when Canadian goods are not available. They and the public of Canada at large, the individual citizen in his daily purchasing, the housewife in her household shopping; every one of them can help Britain, by favoring British and Empire goods rather than the goods of other countries.

Having benefited by the British and Empire market, having learned the worth of the British Empire customer, the timber industry, perhaps better than any other industry in Canada, knows the importance of British and Empire trade. As a slogan to be kept in mind, as a patriotic duty, the timber industry urges all its workers and all its friends to Buy British.

Scandinavian Tea Party Ends in Black Bombardings Dogs of Curacao Form Axis En Route for Rio

By Spy

Now the recent catastrophes concerning "cacti quills" and the "lizard deluge" happened on that mis-begotten day in Curacao while Long John lunched his women, and while the sun pimpled the roofs of the quaint Dutch dwellings, and put the population to deep sleeping, and the myriad little lizards that scoot and dart like quicksilver 'twixt rocks and branches to perpetual gasping.

I, too, was gasping; bleeding also; and in profound misery. So about five that evening I limped up the Sonia's gangplank, and presently found Long John, Momma and School Marm all swilling beer in John's stateroom. My welcome was alcohically epic. Beer was summoned by the hogshead, and then everybody began tweaking at the remaining odd ten thousand cacti quills and chunks of lava that were still so gravely torturing my tattered hide and fetlocks. During this surgery Long John informed me that the lunch party had been an outstanding orgy—so much so, in fact, that all had decided that their thirst for fun and frolic was not even half gratified, and in accordance it had been not only mooted but decided that the four of us were to plunge into the very vortex of Curacao's underworld at the witching stroke of midnight.

Which tale already has been told—but on the afternoon prior to that midnight skirmish, Long John insisted on visiting the captain of a Scandinavian boat berthed at the opposite side of the harbor.

The Scandinavian turned out to be just a clean, chubby craft—half passenger, half cargo—and her skipper appeared as just another affable, deep-voiced son of the sea.

Now Long John had drunk numerous beers and whiskies during the day, and after four or five "doubles" with his Scandinavian friend, I fear that by leaving-time he was a trifle "custardy" about the eyes—in fact (and I hate to publish it) Long John was heroically drunk and developing a slight inclination towards pomposity.

So it came to pass that on quitting the Scandinavian, he gave large voice as to his cravings for a taxi for returning to the Sonia. I immediately argued that a fifteen minute walk was a far better notion, but John truculently disagreed with "Cripes, no! We'll grab one of those stinking niggers taxis and return in style."

Now there were at least twenty nigger taxis parked round the docks by the Scandinavian, and as John manifested his respect of the black races (to wit . . . "stinking niggers") in deep tone, four or five of the nearest drivers cocked quick ears and eyebrows and began muttering some fairly gangerous remarks about the whites, and flexing their sleep-logged legs and arms, as if preparing for something quite unpleasant.

Too tight to sense danger, John lurched up to the nearest driver and grunted, "Hey, black boy. Run us down to the X docks, and make it snappy. How muchee?" "Two dollars," the driver compiled sullenly. "Two dollars? Rats! Fifty cents, you black-faced son of . . . or I'll bang your heathen block off!"

At that, a black growling rose from twenty "bull-thick" throats, and at a signal from the insulted driver several began slowly unhooking their knees and feet from behind their steering wheels and gear levers, and then lolling, sullen-eyed and silent, against fenders, or bales, stacked around the wharf.

Meanwhile, John was hotly arguing with and swearing at the first driver, who, with a sudden "I'll fix you, white man!" darted to the rear of his taxi and began rattling tools about, until finally his black fist closed over a long spanner. Sensing war (and already edging from the scene of this pending massacre of the Pale Faces) I yelled to John to run, but he merely went on arguing and cursing at the now fast-mobolizing negroes.

A second shout roused John to observe that one long black driver was aiming a bottle from ten yards, and then we began sprinting and ducking through the dark, noisome alleys and warehouses round the waterfront, while cans, monkey wrenches, stones and blasphemies rattled behind us and fairly petrified the fair town of Curacao. In the thick of that fine din, black noses pressed themselves flatter than normal against fly-streaked windows, while gutter-splattered, doe-eyed picaninnies sprawled backwards over their thresholds, and scores of shaggy-jowled, scraggy mongrels began woofing and yip-yipping while hurtling into battle with that lolly-tongued, glint-eyed eagerness, so quaintly patent in all the better dogs.

In that 20th century "Retreat from Moscow" some of those zealous dogs pranced and yelped beneath the Negro banner, while others had their hind and forepaws crossing scissor-wise, in full flight with the standard of the Pale Face Insurgents.

For fifteen electrified minutes we (with the new Dog-British Axis) raced through Curacao, just out of can and beer bottle shot, and I'll be both irritated and hurt if you discredit the assertion that on all corners our thighs and temples grated on the curbs.

On, on we sped . . . sweat-drenched, and with lungs beating a heavy tattoo against our ribs and tongues pasty with good, honest terror. John's long legs, tangling with two catapulting hounds, turned him into a human hoop for one complete and perfect somersault, and, cutting a fence a little too close, my right trouser-leg caught a stray wire, and for all I know, may still be clinging to it.

Eventually we gained sight of the "X" docks, and in a final spurt crossed the dead line (range of any white man's vision of another when the chase is black), and as a lone knife fluttered close enough to whisper "phyrrr!" we slacked off, and gave humble thanks to the Patron Saint of Speed and the new Dog-British Axis.

The above, plus a massed escape from "midnight death" that same evening finished Curacao. Why in thunder it didn't finish us is God's business.

Suffice we lived . . . Yes, we lived to once more face the serene decks and passages of the palatial and most pleasurable Sonia . . . also, sad to tell, we lived to breathe farewell to lanky Jonathan. I felt really sorry about that, but duty called. John's business bade him steer northwest, to the Jamaicas. A vessel waited him . . . so he had to go.

Strange—but throughout the whole length of that queasy voyage—from Seattle to Liverpool by way of Panama, Indies, and Para (with way-points) Long John was the sole person (other than Momma and School Marm) that I'd like to meet again.

John was a "stout fellah." Full of humor, plenty of spine, and ripe for any of the inconventialities or minor social felonies that make life more or less bearable or amusing . . . So bottom's up to you, Long Johnathan . . . whether you're in jail at the moment or merely trotting down the Mall on your blooded "Chestnut."

(To Be Continued)

She—You brute! Where my head was when I consented to marry you, I can't imagine!

He—On my shoulder, my dear.

✓ For relieving discomforts of chest colds and night coughs, rub VapoRub on throat, chest, and back at bedtime. VapoRub's poultice-vapor action relieves congestion of upper air passages—eases soreness of chest and back muscles—helps the youngster relax into healing sleep.

✓ For coughing and irritated throat caused by colds, put VapoRub on the child's tongue to relieve the irritation. Then massage VapoRub on throat and chest.

✓ For "sniffles" and misery of head colds, melt VapoRub in a bowl of boiling water. Have the child breathe in the steaming vapors. This loosens phlegm, clears air passages, makes breathing easier. Also massage VapoRub on throat and chest. Millions of families use these three time-tested treatments.

COMMUNIST THEORY WILL BE DISCUSSED

Professor J. A. Irving, in his lecture tonight on "The Philosophy of Communism," will discuss the historical development of the Communist theory or philosophy; the way in which Lenin and Trotsky used it for seizing power in Russia in 1919; the bearing of the Communistic philosophy on the current international situation, and the Russian programme for the future. # CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY

Silver Jubilee of Oak Bay United Church Will Be Commemorated

Special services and social gatherings to be held next week will mark the silver jubilee of the Oak Bay United Church, which was dedicated on November 8, 1914.

Next Sunday Rev. E. D. Braden, of Vancouver, will be the guest preacher at both morning and evening services, and next Monday night an anniversary dinner will be given by the ladies of the congregation, which will be followed at 8 o'clock by a short programme, including a humorous address by Dr. Braden, "Innocence Abroad," the story of his three-month trip to Europe last Summer.

On November 12, Rev. S. S. Osterhout, D.D., president of the conference, will be the guest preacher at both services this Sunday being observed as "Family Day," when parents are asked to attend with their children. On November 13, a congregational social will be held in the evening, to which a number of former ministers of the church have been invited, and music and reminiscences will be heard. Refreshments will be served.

BUILT BY ST. COLUMBA

The present Oak Bay Church was built by the congregation of St. Columba Presbyterian Church, and since union it has housed the joint congregations of that church and the Hampshire Road Methodist Church, under is present name.

The commencement of the work of the St. Columba Church goes back to May 9, 1892, when it began under the name of the East Fernwood Mission, being initiated by the session of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church of Victoria. In 1894 the mission was united with the present Knox and St. Aidan's charges under Rev. Mr. Chisholm. Under successive pastorates the work expanded so greatly that in 1909 the St. Columba charge became separated from Knox. In August, 1910, the late R. A. Macconnell was called and inducted as pastor.

NEW SITE PURCHASED

Becoming self-supporting shortly after, steps were taken to secure a new site, and in 1911 the present location was purchased. Three years later construction was begun, the cornerstone being laid on June 13, 1914, by William Henderson, architect, Masonic grand master for British Columbia, with full Masonic rites. Construction was completed and the church dedicated five months later.

The only remaining volunteer worker of the old church is F. A. Small, 1146 Richardson Street, who was secretary-treasurer of the building fund at the time the church was built.

Following the official union of the Presbyterian and Methodist Churches of Canada, St. Columba merged with Hampshire Road Methodist Church, which dated back to 1913, under the name of Oak Bay United.

Successive pastors have encouraged the growth of the congregation throughout the years, until today, under Rev. F. R. G. Dredge, M.A., it numbers 310, with pastoral oversight of about 200 families. In 1937 a Hammond electric organ was installed, with Laughton Partington as organist and choirmaster. Post-master George H. Gardiner, present treasurer of the church, has been in charge of finances since its erection in 1914.

An explorer is one who runs away from it all and comes home to tell what a hard time he had.

Rimanoczy to Play in East

An invitation to appear as soloist with the Toronto Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Sir Ernest MacMillan, has been accepted by Jean de Rimanoczy, outstanding Hungarian violinist of Vancouver, concert master of the Vancouver Symphony Orchestra, and well known as a conductor of Canadian Broadcasting Corporation musical programmes, who was here as concert master of the Symphony on the occasion of its recent visit.

Mr. De Rimanoczy intends to fly to Toronto for his appearance on Tuesday, November 21, which will be broadcast on the C.B.C.'s coast-to-coast network from 7 to 8 p.m. (P.S.T.).

A graduate of the Royal Hungarian Music Academy under Dr. Eugene Hubay, the violinist is one of Canada's foremost instrumentalists. Although in his early thirites, he can look back on a career that has given him an international reputation. Following a brilliant concert tour of Europe in 1924, he received an offer to come to Canada, which he accepted.

CHESS WIZARD TO PLAY HERE

G. Koltanowski, Blindfold Champion, Will Perform at Dominion Hotel Tomorrow

Georges Koltanowski, world champion blindfold chess player, will be seen in action here tomorrow evening at the Dominion Hotel. Plans for the appearance of the Belgian exponent of the game were completed yesterday by officials of the Victoria Chess Club.

Koltanowski, now on a tour of the Pacific Coast, will match his skill against a number of the leading players in the city. The presentation will be staged in the lobby of the Dominion Hotel, and will unquestionably be one of the finest of its kind ever arranged for Victoria lovers of the game of chess. The match will start at 7:30 o'clock.

Actually Koltanowski will not be blindfolded, but will sit with his back to the Victoria players. The term blindfolded is always used when speaking of exhibitions of the type to be presented tomorrow evening. In addition to playing against a number of the city's leading performers, the Belgian expert will give a short, interesting lecture. This part of the programme should also prove very entertaining.

ARE YOU AGEING BEFORE YOUR TIME?

Why Not Study the Matter!

Some men and women, though no longer young, still preserve much of the overflowing vitality of their youth. There are examples of it among your own circle of friends. Others have a different outlook; they seem to grow old before their time. Let us examine briefly a state of affairs that too often exists among people in every walk of life. Look at it frankly, with an open mind. Most people agree that many of the common ailments — listlessness, headaches, pains of rheumatism and lumbago — are chiefly caused by constipation. And the minute you mention the word "constipation" they deny they suffer from it because they are "regular" every day. What foolishness! You can be "regular" every day and still be constipated!

Take off the mask of premature age

Unless your body gets rid of poisons thoroughly and regularly you will have to "pay the piper". If you are fortunate you will escape severe pain and discomfort; more than likely you will "slow up", suffer the mental misery of incomplete rest at nights; you become irritable.

Throughout the years Kruschen Salts has imparted untold benefits to mankind in almost every country in the world. For Kruschen contains several valuable, highly-refined mineral salts your body requires in some form, to help keep you feeling at your best.

The Kruschen habit is such a simple, convenient, inexpensive way. You take just "the little daily dose"—tasteless in tea, coffee—or in a glass of water. No product in the stores today is more "modern", none more carefully prepared.

Why not start right away. Give Kruschen a real trial during the next few months. Prove it for yourself. At all drug counters 25c, 45c, 75c.

Takes Over With Family Welfare

Miss Dorothy A. Yates, who arrived recently to take over the duties of secretary of the Family Welfare Association of Greater Victoria, has had valuable experience in this type of work in Eastern Canada.

A graduate of the social science department of Toronto University, she got her first practical acquaintance with social welfare while she was with the Infants' Home in Toronto. From there she went to Montreal, where for three years she was with the Family Welfare Association, at which time she met Miss Dorothy King, a former Victoria resident, who is now lecturing at McGill University welfare department. Two years ago she returned to Toronto and became associated with the Protestant Children's Home, and it was while there that she received the appointment to the position with the Victoria Family Welfare Association, made vacant by the resignation and marriage of Miss L. McLaughlin.

WILL FOLLOW OAK BAY LEAD

Esquimalt Council to Seek Opinion of Committee On Transportation

Following the lead of Oak Bay, Esquimalt Municipal Council will ask the intermunicipal transportation committee whether or not it is wise to call for tenders for a new transportation system in view of wartime conditions. If the committee is determined to go ahead with the proposals, then the Esquimalt Council is willing to continue consideration of all matters pertaining to a new system.

This was the decision made last night at a special meeting called to deal with a list of questions on matters of policy submitted to the council by the intermunicipal committee, with a request for instructions. Reeve Alex Lockley and other members of the Esquimalt Council felt that it would be a waste of time to review the list until it was determined whether or not negotiations for a new system were to be proceeded with.

Members of the council expressed the belief that the time was not now opportune to proceed with the proposal, but desired to leave the way open for further co-operation should the city want to go ahead.

Travelogue Entertains By Novelty

A comprehensive panorama of British Columbia's treasure house of scenic grandeur and industrial enterprise was vividly presented to Normal School students at the weekly meeting of the Literary Society in the form of a travelogue, edited and voiced by James Panton. The itinerary of the travelogue touched mainly the far-flung centres from which Normal School students have come, and illustrations of the province's fascinating high lights were provided by the men's class, which was in charge of the programme.

Robert Flemming opened the programme with an interesting review of major happenings in the European conflict during the past two weeks, and recent political developments of international import. A review of the trials and tribulations of certain members of the student body during teaching week was given by Clyde Kennedy.

On a sprightly musical programme, Robert Jones played two piano accordion solos; two clarinet duets were given by Joseph Bianco and Michael White, followed by an Irish Guard march, "Liberty." The student body sang "Pack Up Your Troubles," with piano accompaniment by Robert Flemming.

James Panton's amusing recitation, "East Kootenay Up to Bat," completed the programme.

HARD-OF-HEARING CLUB

An interesting programme has been arranged by the Victoria Club for the Hard-of-Hearing to take place at the clubrooms, 1414 Douglas Street, on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. An invitation is extended to all persons with impaired hearing to enjoy the programme over the club group-hearing-aid.

Fred Spencer will give an illustrated lecture, with natural color pictures, on "Nature Beautiful," showing the beauty of flowers and insect life.

Junior League to Queen Alexandra Solarium Formed

New Organization to Help Institute Financially With Public Events—Dr. J. D. Hunter Gives Address Before Gathering of Members

DR. J. D. Hunter, president of the board of directors of the Queen Alexandra Solarium, was the speaker at the inaugural meeting of the Queen Alexandra Solarium Junior League, held last night in the Solarium headquarters, Pemberton Building. Miss Margaret Vantreight, president of the league, introduced the speaker, who extended the sincere thanks of the board to the league. He gave an outline of the history of the Solarium from March 1, 1927, when the first crippled child entered, and praised the work of Dr. Glen Simpson, medical superintendent.

"The Solarium is in dire need of support," said Dr. Hunter. "Of all the children cared for in the Solarium, 90 per cent are unable to be paid for by parents. The Government contributes seventy cents per child each day and the per capita cost per child is $2.53 per day, the lowest rate per capita in the province for treatment of crippled children. The cost to maintain the children each month amounts to $5,000."

Departments of the Solarium were fully outlined and mention was made of the X-ray department, established by the Royal Oak Women's Institute. Only boys twelve years of age and under, and girls fourteen years and under were admitted into the Solarium, and of the many babies only a few months old who entered, many were released cured after a short period, it was noted. Pictures of many of the children were shown by Dr. Hunter.

OFFERS ASSISTANCE

Mrs. D. J. Mugford, president of the Women's Auxiliary to the Solarium, spoke briefly, wishing the league every success in its endeavor and offered her assistance, as also did Miss Florence Russell, secretary of the Solarium.

Miss Vantreight presided over the business meeting which followed, and a resume of the previous meetings of charter members was given in the report of the secretary, Miss Patricia Cattroll. The slate of officers included: President, Miss Vantreight; secretary, Miss Cattroll; treasurer, Mrs. F. E. Waring; directors, Miss Ella Dryden and Mrs. R. McCullough. The membership fee is $1, with an enrollment fee of $1, and membership in the club will be limited. The membership committee includes Mrs. Ian McCallum, Mrs. K. J. Davis and Mrs. P. H. Brown.

It was announced by the president that every two months the league would purchase necessary equipment and articles needed immediately by the Solarium. The members would take turns on the buying committee enabling them to become better acquainted with the work. To further this end, each week groups of the members would drive to the Solarium to meet the children and inspect the various departments. Already the executive and several of the charter members had availed themselves of this opportunity.

"PENNY POT"

At each meeting there will be a "penny pot" for members' and friends' donations to be used for urgently-needed purchases. Donations from the general public will be gratefully received by the members. The list of equipment needed by the Solarium far exceeds the amount in the league's funds.

The enrollment of new members last night numbered thirty. There will be two meetings monthly in the Solarium headquarters, the second and fourth Mondays. Within the next few weeks the constitution will be brought before the members for consideration and the aims and objects, which will mainly be to assist the Solarium financially, will be outlined.

Unusual Number of Weddings Recorded

OTTAWA, Oct. 30 (CP).—Cupid and his bow and arrow did a land office business during the first month of the war, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics disclosed today.

Births registered in sixty-six cities and towns having populations of 10,000 or more numbered 7,458 in September. Deaths were 3,935. In September, 1938, births were 7,226, deaths 4,016 and marriages 4,729.

Attending her as bridesmaids were the groom's twin sisters, the Misses Gladys and Gertrude Campbell, in powder blue crepe frocks with self-colored embroidery. They wore hair bandeaux of French flowers and pink rosebuds. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Alfred Campbell. Following the ceremony, an informal reception was held at the home of the groom's parents, where Mrs. Campbell, in a wine-colored dress of silk crepe, with a black felt hat and corsage bouquet of pink carnations and pink rosebuds, assisted in receiving the guests. The bride and groom left by the midnight boat for Vancouver. For traveling, the bride wore a teal blue coat, with red fox collar and matching accessories. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Campbell will reside on Darwin Road. Among the gifts received was a handsome tea-wagon and cheque from the bride's former employers.

BASSETT—BENNETT

SALT SPRING ISLAND, Oct. 30.—A pretty wedding took place at St. Mark's Church, Salt Spring Island, on Saturday at 2 p.m., when Evelyn Margaret, eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs. J. Bennett, Ganges, became the bride of Mr. William Maxwell Bassett, Vancouver, only son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Bassett, Edmonton. Rev. C. H. Popham, vicar of the parish, officiated. Mrs. V. C. Best at the organ, played the wedding music, and accompanied the hymn "O Perfect Love."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, entered the church to the strains of the "Bridal Chorus," and wore a floor-length gown of white satin cut on princess lines with long sleeves and sweetheart neckline, edged with tiny white satin rosettes. Her long veil of embroidered net fell from a coronet of pearls and silver into a train extending beyond the gown. She carried a shower bouquet of white chrysanthemums and maidenhair fern, with long streamers of tulle. The bride was attended by her two sisters, Miss Mary Bennett, in an ankle-length gown of powder blue taffeta, cut on princess lines with short, full puff sleeves. She wore a bandeau of matching blue flowers, and carried an arm bouquet of cream and pink chrysanthemums. Miss June Bennett was dressed in rose pink taffeta fashioned on similar lines to that worn by her sister. On her hair was a bandeau of white flowers, and she also carried an arm bouquet of cream and white chrysanthemums.

The best man was Mr. John Bennett, and the ushers were Messrs. Desmond Seymour and Harry Roberts. The church was decorated with chrysanthemums and other Autumn flowers, the guest pews being marked by posies of small yellow dahlias and white satin ribbon.

After the ceremony a reception, attended by about thirty persons, was held at the home of Mrs. W. A. Roberts, which had been lent for the occasion. The mother of the bride, wearing a gown of blue silk, matching felt hat and corsage bouquet of pink roses and mauve stocks, received the guests. The refreshment table was centred with the three-tier wedding cake, which was cut by the bride. Later Mr. and Mrs. Bassett left by ferry for Victoria, the bride traveling in a navy blue suit with rust colored off-the-face hat, and other matching accessories. The Meanderings of Mrs. Miggledip—

You can't find Mrs. Miggledip in the above picture; she's probably too exhausted to appear anywhere. Mrs. Miggledip is an unhappy lady in whose home there is only one telephone (in the hall at the front of the house), and the arrows in the picture mark the tiring trails she trudges on her trips from various parts of the house to the solitary telephone. What Mrs. Miggledip needs is an extension telephone somewhere else in the house. At the bedside, in the kitchen and in the basement are good places to have extension telephones.

THREE FIGHTERS AND TWO MANAGERS SUSPENDED

Americans Will Have Formidable Team on the Ice

Manager Dutton States That Switching of Conacher to Defence Berth Will Strengthen Back Division for Hockey Campaign—Three Front Lines—Robertson in Goal

WINNIPEG, Oct. 30 (CP).—The big "if" in New York Americans line-up this year seems to be wrapped up in the performance of Charlie Conacher in his new position at defence.

Manager Red Dutton has moved his new acquisition back to the blue line, and after Saturday's exhibition game against New York Rangers, the Amerk manager predicted Conacher would provide the spark to ignite his new band of veterans this year. The "Big Bomber" scored one goal and generally marshalled the club to a 2-0 victory.

"RED" DUTTON

The star-spangled Americans enter another National Hockey League campaign with nine hold overs and an equal number of new faces—the result of an off-season of furious trading by the fiery Dutton.

Conacher entered hockey's hall of fame when he was part of Toronto Maple Leaf's famous "kid line" with Harvey (Busher) Jackson and Joe Primeau. Conceded the hardest shot in the league, Conacher won the scoring championship and was picked on the all-star club in 1933-34, 1934-35, and made the all-stars again in 1935-36. He announced his retirement two years ago, but turned up last year with Detroit Red Wings.

FIRST-STRING LINE

Jackson came to Americans with Buzz Boll and Dop Romnes from Toronto, and has been showing great form in training. Dutton said development of Conacher into a defenceman had ruined his original plan of reuniting two-thirds of the "kid line," but there was no doubt Jackson was on the comeback trail. He will make up the first string with two hold overs, Art Chapman and Eddie Wiseman.

Murray Armstrong, who played with the Toronto farm club, Syracuse Stars, of the International-American circuit, last season, will centre the second string, flanked by Buzz Boll and Lorne Carr. Boll was a standout with Toronto for years, and Carr is a repeater from last year.

Dutton's third string will have an N.H.L. veteran of many years' experience at centre. Dec Romnes played with Chicago Black Hawks when they won the Stanley Cup two seasons ago and transferred to Toronto last year. Tommy Anderson is secure in the left wing position, and Jack Thomson, Regina, will likely fill the other spot. "Hooley" Smith and Johnny Sorrell, both with Amerks last year, will be carried for reserve duty.

The veteran Al Murray will team with Conacher on one defence combination. Wilf Field, American rookie last year, and "Chuck" Shannon, husky blue liner from Syracuse Stars, round out Dutton's "rough-and-rock-'em" defence. Earl Robertson will return for goal duty.

Armstrong Stops Pacho in Fourth Round in Denver

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 30 (AP).—Welterweight Champion Henry Armstrong punched out a technical knockout over Bobby Pacho, of Cleveland, in the fourth round of their fifteen-round title bout before 4,500 at Municipal Auditorium tonight. Armstrong weighed 140, Pacho 146.

With Pacho rolling helplessly along the ropes under Armstrong's merciless attack, Referee Jack Bloom stepped between the fighters and stopped the bout after little more than a minute of the fourth round.

Pacho tried to make a fight of it in the final round. He shuffled out to the centre of ring and traded blows with Hammering Henry at close quarters.

The champion, fighting his fifth scrap in four weeks, quickly pounded Pacho into the ropes. Then Armstrong stood out and rained his fists on the Cleveland Filipino's face and bulging waistline faster than the eye could follow.

AMERKS BEAT RANGER CLAN

Dutton's Crew Scores Second Straight Win Over Patrick's Team

WINNIPEG, Oct. 30 (CP).—New York Americans came back strong in the sixth and final game of their pre-schedule exhibition series to defeat their National Hockey League rivals, New York Rangers, 3-1, before 4,000 fans here tonight.

The first game of the series was tied. Rangers won the next three and Americans won the fifth in Regina on Saturday.

Americans counted the opening goal in the first, and the second period was scoreless. Rangers tied the game in the third, only to be overwhelmed by an American power play that netted two more goals.

Wilf Field scored a goal and an assist, with Buzz Boll and Murray Armstrong netting Americans' other counters. Art Chapman and Johnny Sorrell each had an assist. Babe Pratt got Rangers' lone counter on a double pass from Phil Watson and Bryan Hextal.

SUMMARY

First Period—1, Americans, Field (Sorrell), 10:06. Penalties: Conacher, Pike.

Second Period—No scoring.

Third Period—2, Rangers, Pratt (Watson, Hextall), 11:03; 3, Americans, Boll (Chapman), 14:22; 4, Americans, Armstrong (Field), 18:51. Penalty: H. Smith.

Mike Jacobs Offers Farr Louis Fight

LONDON, Oct. 30 (AP).—Aircraftsman Tommy Farr, British heavyweight champion, said today that Mike Jacobs, New York fight promoter, had offered him 20 per cent of the gate to meet World Champion Joe Louis in New York next March.

Farr, who went ten rounds with Louis two years ago, said: "I hope to get leave from the R.A.F. and I would not want much time, because I might fly each way. If I can't get leave, then of course the whole thing is off."

Basketball Clubs Offered Free Use Of Sports Centre

Basketball facilities at the Victoria Sports Centre will be placed at the disposal of local clubs free of charge for training sessions, Dave Nicol, one of the board of directors, announced yesterday. Any team wishing to take advantage of the offer should get in touch with Nicol.

Olympic Games May Be Held in Detroit Due to War Crisis

1940 Olympiad Becomes International Guessing Game Following Statement From Headquarters —"Some Mistake," Says Avery Brundage

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP).—The 1940 Olympic Games became an international guessing game today because of an announcement from Olympic headquarters in Switzerland that they might be transferred from Helsingfors, Finland, to Detroit. Nobody could be sure what it was all about, inasmuch as Finland still is planning to hold the Games and Detroit has not asked for them recently, and isn't sure it wants them on such short notice.

A proclamation of the international Olympic committee in Lausanne yesterday said the 1940 Games would be held in Detroit if Finland renounced its right to stage them.

The committee's communique said all national Olympic committees had been polled as to whether they would send teams to Helsingfors, and that if their replies were negative, as many were expected to be, Finland would renounce and clear the way for removal of the Olympics to the United States, where many of the neutral nations were certain to compete.

SOME MISTAKE

Avery Brundage, president of the American Olympic committee, retorted: "There must be some mistake. The committee would not award the Games to Detroit without consulting us, and we've heard nothing about it."

In Detroit Mayor Richard Reading, with great civic enthusiasm, declared his city would "welcome the Games with open arms." But his own chairman of a committee to obtain the Olympics in 1944, Frederic C. Matthai, expressed surprise at the action and said:

"There isn't sufficient time to make plans for a bang-up Olympiad and a track meet without France, Great Britain and Germany in the contention would not be much of an attraction. Finland has a tremendous investment in the Games, and it may mean bankruptcy for someone if they are not held."

When the Games were moved to Helsingfors earlier this year from Japan because of the Sino-Japanese war, the city appropriated $2,500,000 and the nation twice that amount to promote the affair.

A stadium designed to seat 62,000, with 45,000 permanent seats, is in the last stages of construction.

RANGERS WIN LEAGUE TILT

Register 4-2 Soccer Verdict Over Garrison—City Beats Wests

LEAGUE STANDING

| | W. | L. | D. | Goals F. | A. | P. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Victoria City | 1 | 0 | 0 | 3 | 1 | 2 |
| Rangers | 1 | 0 | 0 | 4 | 2 | 2 |
| Victoria West | 1 | 1 | 0 | 3 | 3 | 2 |

| Esquimalt | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 |
| Garrison | 0 | 2 | 0 | 2 | 6 | 0 |

Sunday's scores:
Victoria City 3, Victoria West 1.
Rangers 4, Garrison 2.

Making their debut in senior company, Manager Dave Stewart's Rangers, formerly Caveys of the intermediate league, pulled a surprise 4-2 victory out of the bag Sunday at Hampton Road, at the expense of the Garrison. At Bullen Park, more than 400 fans saw Victoria City turn back Victoria West, 3-1, in the second game on the programme which marked the opening of Sunday football for the 1939-40 season.

Blakemore and McCorkall shared the scoring honors for the Rangers, each being responsible for a pair of tallies. Sage and Casillo scored for the soldiers.

Rangers set up a 2-0 lead in the early stages of the opening stanza, but the Tommies knotted the score before the breather arrived.

The eventual winners broke the deadlock soon after play resumed in the final session, and fired home their last goal just before the end of the match.

Each team scored from a penalty in the first half.

CITY BEATS WESTS

Playing at Bullen Park, a short-handed Victoria City team marked up a 3-1 victory over the greenshirts. The City started with ten players and had their ranks further depleted when Holness was ruled off the field ten minutes before the close.

The eventual winners had the better of the play in the opening session, and reached the half-time breather on the long end of a 2-0 score. In the second half each team entered the scoring column.

Bert Politano snared the first counter of the match, fifteen minutes after the kick-off, to put the City in front 1-0. Holding the upper hand, Manager Charlie Lewis' proteges went two goals up when Harry Holness rifled a shot past Goalie Restell.

Manager Tommy Restell replaced Munroe and Kitching with "Scotty" Robinson and Joe Travis as the second half got under way, and the Wests proved capable of holding their own with the redshirts.

City widened their margin to three goals when Al Condon scored from a corner kick, the ball curving between the uprights.

Greenshirts snapped out of it at this stage, and for the remainder of the game kept play in their opponents' area. Smart goaltending by Norm Stewartson, however, robbed them of many splendid scoring opportunities. Just before the final whistle "Chuck" Restell, hard-working halfback, bagged the Wests' lone marker.

$10,000 Pimlico Special Set For This Wednesday

BALTIMORE, Oct. 30 (AP).—It rained (remember the Preakness?) at Pimlico today and the railbirds who watched Challedon, Cravat and Kayak II work out began talking about prospects of the "race of the year" developing into a battle in the mud.

The consensus seemed to be it wouldn't make any difference to the doughty trio entered in the Pimlico Special if all the elements went on a bing Wednesday, the day of the $10,000 winner-take-all race over a mile and three-sixteenths.

Challedon, Cravat and Kayak II are big, tough horses, with courage and stamina enough to run a good race, come rain, hail, heat wave or snow.

SCHMELING, THOMAS, GALENTO, LEWIS AND JACOBS ARE BARRED

Illinois State Athletic Commission Rules Five Out Pending Investigation of "Fixed Fights" Charges Made by Harry Thomas—Affidavits Given to Chicago Newspaper

CHICAGO, Oct. 30 (AP).—The Illinois State Athletic Commission tonight barred Harry Thomas, Tony Galento, Max Schmeling, Nate Lewis and Joe Jacobs from Illinois rings pending a complete hearing of "fixed fight" charges made by Thomas.

The ruling was announced after the commissioners had discussed allegations of Thomas, a former heavyweight fighter, that results of his bouts with Schmeling and Galento "had been decided weeks before the fighters entered the ring."

The members met after Governor Henry Horner had ordered an inquiry into Thomas' story of his alleged "dives." They pointed out that neither the three fighters nor their managers held licences in Illinois, nor had they applied for any. Their formal statement added:

"After consultation with Attorney-General John E. Cassidy, the commission was informed that it had no jurisdiction to conduct an investigation at this time. However, it is the unanimous opinion of this commission and Governor Horner that none of the accused parties will be allowed to engage in any boxing enterprise in the state until there has been a complete hearing of the charges made by Mr. Thomas."

Such a hearing can be held only after one or more of the boxers or their managers seek licences from the commission. The commissioners then asserted that if and when such an application is made, "there will be no licence granted to any of the accused until every vestige of suspicion is wiped away."

TO DISCUSS CASE

The statement was signed by Chairman Joseph Triner and his colleagues, Shildon Clark and James Fitzpatrick.

Governor Horner, at Springfield, said he would invite Arch Ward, sports editor of The Chicago Tribune, which published the charges made by Thomas, to discuss the case with him.

The Schmeling-Thomas fight was held December 13, 1937, in New York's Madison Square Garden. Schmeling won a technical knockout in the eighth round.

The Galento-Thomas bout was in Philadelphia November 14, 1938. Galento won on a technical knockout in three rounds.

The Tribune said Thomas made these allegations in affidavits and statements given to the newspaper:

1. Both contests were designed to build up reputations for challengers seeking bouts with Champion Joe Louis.

2. Thomas received approximately $8,500—the first "important" money of his ring career—for boxing Schmeling and was promised $6,000 for meeting Galento but actually earned $600 or $800 less than that amount.

3. Arrangements for the "faked" fights were made by Thomas' manager, Nate Lewis, of Chicago, and Joe Jacobs, of New York, manager of both Schmeling and Galento.

Both Jacobs and Lewis denied Thomas' charges.

BILL MARQUART GETS CHANCE

Winnipegger to Fight Billy Beauhold Tomorrow in Madison Square

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (CP). — Hard and ring wise after three years under a master's eye, Bill Marquart, Winnipeg lightweight, will take his dynamite punch into the Madison Square Garden ring here on Wednesday in the first fight of an Eastern campaign aimed at Lou Ambers' lightweight boxing crown.

The Winnipegger, four times Canadian amateur featherweight champion and a member of the Dominion's team at the 1936 Olympic Games, will tackle Billy Beauhold, of Jersey City, in the semi-final to the Tony Canzoneri-Al Davis fight. Beauhold is recognized as one of the top-flight lightweights in the East.

Marquart today worked out under the supervision of Manager Jack Hurley, who developed Billy Petrolle, one of the few fighters who defeated Babyface Jimmy McLarnin, of Vancouver.

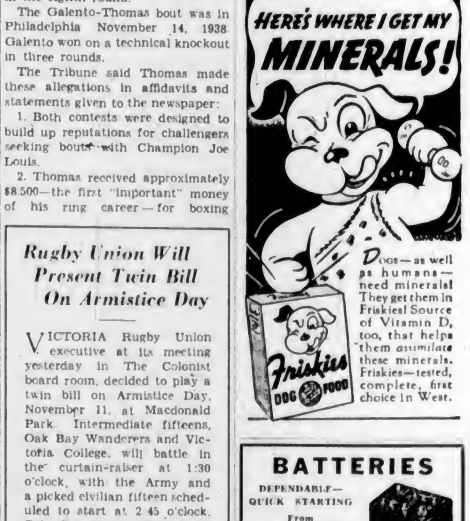

"If Marquart takes Beauhold we'll stay East and go after Ambers' title," Hurley said.

The record shows Marquart has won thirty-two out of thirty-six professional fights, eighteen of them by the knockout route. The Canadian has never been on the canvas.

ALL-STARS IN HOCKEY WIN AT MONTREAL

League's Select Team Beats Canadiens in Siebert Memorial Game

MONTREAL, Oct. 30 (CP).—A team of National Hockey League All-Stars, with Syl Apps, of Toronto Maple Leafs, showing the way, whipped Montreal Canadiens, 5-2, here before about 6,000 fans in the Babe Siebert Memorial game.

Apps was easily the standout player of the game, staged to aid the family of the great Canadien defenceman who was drowned during the Summer. The Toronto centre star scored one goal and helped in three others as the All-Stars gained an easy victory.

The scoring was confined to the first two periods, with two goals coming in the opening session and five in the second. Bobby Bauer and Eddie Shore, both of Boston Bruins, tallied in the first period for the All-Stars. Earl Robinson and Louis Trudel scored for Canadiens in the middle period, while All-Stars' goals went to Apps and two Chicago Black Hawks players—Johnny Gottselig and Earl Seibert.

The goal credited to Seibert, however, was in reality a "gift," for it was shoved behind Goalie Wilf Cude by Defenceman Doug Young.

Although Apps was the scoring star, the big attraction for the crowd was the inimitable Shore. The big Boston defenceman, who recently purchased the Springfield club in the International-American League, brought a great roar from the crowd when he danced a lively "shag" to music from an orchestra in the Forum just before the start of the final period. The spectators found the sight of the usually grim Shore doing a dance on skates amusing, and clapped for more. Eddie obliged and brought down the House.

Officials: Bill Stewart and King Clancy.

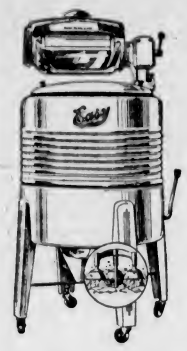

SUMMARY

First period—1, All-Stars, Bauer (Apps, Gottselig), 8:30; 2, All-Stars, Shore (Apps, Gottselig), 10:07. Penalties: None.

Second period—3, All-Stars, Apps (Bauer), 2:05; 4, Canadiens, Robinson (Mantha, Getliffe), 5:49; 5, All-Stars, Gottselig (Coulter, Apps), 7:49; 6, All-Stars, Seibert, 11:21; 7, Canadiens, Trudel (Drouin, Lorrain), 19:15. Penalties: Goupille, Goodfellow, Wentworth.

Third period—No score. Penalty: Jackson.

APPS SLIGHTLY HURT

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Oct. 30 (CP).—Great sighs of relief arose in Toronto Maple Leafs' camp today when it was revealed their National Hockey League all-star centre, Syl Apps, had suffered only minor cuts about the hips in a fall in practice on one of Normie Mann's skates.

Apps fell over Mann and landed squarely on the blade of his skate, just after arriving here from Montreal where he started in the Siebert Memorial game last night.

CANADA LOSES PHYLLIS LAFOY

Ontario Track and Field Star Now Attending Michigan College

YPSILANTI, Mich., Oct. 30 (CP).—Phyllis Lafoy, of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., one of Canada's outstanding young track and field stars, is attending Michigan Normal's College of Physical Education here, and is giving considerable thought to the idea of becoming a citizen of the United States.

Miss Lafoy, a native of Gray, Sask., feels that she would have had a good chance of making the Canadian Olympic team in 1940—but the war has upset all her ideas along this line.

The eighteen-year-old athlete says that because there is little chance of her attending the Olympic Games as a Canadian because of the conflict, and as she would need United States citizenship papers to teach in this country, she may become a citizen here.

Dr. Lloyd W. Olds, Michigan Normal track coach, is confident Miss Lafoy will become an outstanding athlete. He is a pretty good judge of athletic ability, too, as he is chairman of the Michigan Amateur Athletic Union and a member of the United States Olympic committee.

Miss Lafoy last Summer established an outstanding record at the Ontario track and field championships in Hamilton when she leaped eighteen feet to win the broad jump, cleared five feet to become high jump champion, and ran the eighty-metre hurdles in thirteen seconds flat.

CAPTURES TROPHY

VICTORIA RESIDENTS TO HEAR YEHUDI MENUHIN

Many Victoria music lovers will join the large group traveling to Vancouver to hear Yehudi Menuhin, twenty-two-year-old genius of the violin. Since this is Mr. Menuhin's first visit to Vancouver, a capacity house will be on hand to greet the young star, and Vancouver and Victoria residents will mingle for the gala event.

Many of Victoria's concert-goers made a special effort to arrange this Vancouver trip when Mr. Menuhin's New York office announced that previous commitments would not permit him to return to the Pacific Northwest for at least five years, if indeed even then.

Derby Ante Is Boosted To $75,000

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 30 (AP).—The Kentucky Derby became a $75,000 horse race today—the second richest in these United States.

Colonel Matt J. Winn, impresario of Churchill Downs, announced the classic for Saturday, May 4, 1940, and raised the ante to the winners from $50,000 to $75,000.

Only the Santa Anita Handicap, with $100,000 added, tops the sixty-sixth annual running of the Derby. Kentucky's classic now is worth more than the Preakness, Belmont Stakes, Belmont Futurity, Arlington Classic, Narragansett Special, Pimlico Futurity, Arlington Futurity and Classic, New England Futurity and the Massachusetts Handicap.

Colonel Winn, white of hair and pink of face, smiled proudly as he confined his comment to:

"The added money was raised because it was worth it."

WINNER AT THE GORGE

Jack Okell, well-known local football player, captured top honors in the hidden-hole competition held at the Gorge Vale Golf Club on Sunday last.

HM-M

It was recently proved that the largest vaudeville house in London could be emptied in two minutes.

"What was the name of the act that did it?"

Mrs. MacDonald Elected Captain

Mrs. John MacDonald was elected captain of the women's division of the Victoria Golf Club at the annual meeting held in the clubhouse recently. Mrs. L. O. Howard was the choice for the vice-captaincy, and the following were placed on the committee: Miss E. Benson, Mrs. R. R. Brough, Mrs. H. B. Combe and Mrs. J. H. Wilson. Miss Marjorie Todd is the honorary secretary for the next twelve months.

JUNIOR SOCCER AGES UNLIMITED

WINNIPEG, Oct. 30 (CP).—Sam Davidson, secretary of the Dominion Football Association, today announced suspension of the D.F.A. regulation governing the age limit of junior soccer players throughout Canada.

"From now on each province can make its own rules for juniors," Davidson said. "If they don't want a junior age limit, they don't have to have one."

The D.F.A. regulation restricted junior soccer to players under twenty-one years of age. The decision to suspend this ruling resulted from a mail-vote of the association's executive, the secretary said.

Wall Street Has Torpid Day With Little on Move

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP).—Speculative torpor gripped the stock market today and narrow price changes either way resulted in a virtual trend stalemate.

A few aircrafts, with fractional gains, were the liveliest performers. Mild support at the finish enabled a handful of steels, mail orders, rails, coppers and motors to come out slightly ahead.

Minor losses, though, were widely distributed when the final gong sounded.

The Associated Press average of sixty stocks was unchanged at 53.1. Transfers totaling 638,870 shares were the smallest for a full session in about two weeks.

Among gainers were Eastern Airlines, Montgomery Ward, Sears-Roebuck, American Telephone, Anaconda, Westinghouse, International Telephone, N.Y. Central and Pennsylvania.

Behind a trifle were U.S. Rubber, Douglas Aircraft, Union Carbide, Allied Chemical, Santa Fe, Western Union and Texas Corp.

Taking the bond market's limelight today, United States Government securities moved up sharply, closing with gains ranging to 26-32 of a point.

Traders said, however, that while there was scattered buying by insurance companies, the bulk of the dealings were "professional." Thinness of trading, dealers point out, made values respond quickly to even scattered takings of the Federals.

Corporate bonds followed an even path, with price changes as a rule from fractions to 1, and gains and losses about evenly divided.

Italian 7's were 3 1-2 higher at 65 in the foreign dollar division, and Japanese 6 1-2's were up 1 1-4 at 77 1-2. Canadian 4's lost 1-2 at 96 3-4.

Transactions totaled $5,772,325, face value, compared with $6,263,000 last Friday.

NO ACTIVITY IN WHEAT FUTURES

WINNIPEG, Oct. 30 (CP).—Possibility of moisture relief in the dry areas of the United States Winter wheat belt, together with an easing of export interest in Canadian wheat, weakened wheat futures prices more than a cent on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today.

Traders showed little interest in proceedings, and quotations drifted gradually lower until at the close they were 1 1-4 to 1 7-8 cents down. October wheat finished at 69 1-4 cents, November 69 1-4, December 70 3-8, and May 75 3-8 cents a bushel.

Cash wheat spreads were 1-8 to 1-4 lower on the few actual transactions reported.

Export interest in barley and domestic buying in oats supplied most of the action in the coarse grain pit, although crusher demand for flax boosted the price of that commodity.

OTTAWA, Oct. 30 (CP).—The Foreign Exchange Control Board today announced the following exchange rates:

American funds: 10 per cent premium, buying; 11 per cent premium, selling.

Sterling, $4.43, buying; $4.47, selling.

CHEAPER STOCKS MAKE ADVANCES

TORONTO, Oct. 30 (CP).—Trading in a group of the penny stocks and in some of the cheaper base metals steamed up today on the Toronto market with prices tending upward while the higher-price stocks of both gold and base metal groups sagged narrowly. Base metal shares were holding a minor index at the close but the golds dropped about a point. The close was down .34 for the industrials and .09 for the Western oils. Turnover was 393,000 shares.

Judgment of the United States Claims Commission awarding the Canadian Car & Foundry Company about $3,000,000 under a long-standing claim against Germany, sent the Canadian Car stocks to new highs for the year, the common to 9 1-4 and the preferred to 32 3-4. Gains of 3-4 to 2 1-8 respectively were held. Other steels were irregularly lower.

Implements followed the steels down. The foods, building and bank stocks posted more losses than gains. Utilities maintained an even course. International Pete and B.A. Oil firmed narrowly and Imperial dropped a small fraction.

Sherritt traded 28,000 shares and advanced to 1.46, and Aldermac 58,000 shares on an advance of 51.

Penny golds were mainly strong and the higher-price issues weak. Lakeshore fell back 1-2 to 32 1-2, Dome lost 1-4 and Wright-Hargreaves 10 cents.

Western Oils were quiet. Calgary & Edmonton closed 5 cents down, Home Oil 3 cents down, and Okalta and Anglo-Canadian added a cent or two.

What Today Means

"SCORPIO"

If October 31 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10 a.m. until 12 noon; from 3 to 5 p.m., and from 8 to 10 p.m. The danger periods are from 8 to 10 a.m.; from 6 to 8 p.m., and from 10 p.m. until midnight.

Be on the lookout for people with a distorted idea of humor this day. This All Hallowe'en Eve may have unfortunate consequences for those who indulge in practical jokes that can shock or injure people, so it will be good judgment and a kind deed for you to discourage anyone who plans to play them. Do not let your imagination run away with itself. You can expect to be asked a number of silly questions. An exceptional amount of activity, in many diversified forms, probably will make the day seem to pass by quickly. It might be well to remember now that a fresh mind can accomplish wonders, whereas a tired one is apt to blunder. Married and engaged couples, and those who are planning a matrimonial future, will be wise not to display any doubt about the accuracy of statements or explanations if they wish to keep out of an unpleasant dispute.

If you are a woman and October 31 is your birthday, you may be inclined at times to do things in a very arbitrary fashion, and this will not be conducive of making you happy or carefree. It never pays to scorn advice, and the more consideration you give to any that is offered, the better off you will be. The more you refrain from discussing your private affairs with casual acquaintances, the less involved they will become. As you, perhaps, always feel you are morally obligated to keep any promise you make, you ought to think twice before making any. As a medical practitioner, professional shopper, purchasing agent, personal director, modiste, interior decorator, politician or sales representative you may find little difficulty in being well paid for your work, besides gaining a useful reputation.

The child born on October 31 can do excellent work in any line of endeavor it undertakes, provided it makes full use of its talents. It must learn the importance of concentration.

If you are a man and October 31 is your natal day, remember that too much time spent in systematizing often leaves little time for actual work. The go-getter gets the results. You are capable of achieving brilliant results, if you become a proficient engineer, architect, promoter, publicity man, inventor, agriculturalist, writer, artist, musician, lawyer, doctor, druggist, chemist, salesman or manufacturer.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE CONTROL BOARD

NOTICE

All persons exporting property from Canada, or importing property into Canada, or receiving any foreign currency in Canada or abroad, or dealing in any way with foreign securities or other foreign assets should take notice that activities of this character are subject to the provisions of the Foreign Exchange Control Order. This Order was passed under the authority of the War Measures Act, and it is encumbent upon all concerned to become familiar with the Order and the Regulations of the Board. Penalties have been established for infractions of the Order or Regulations.

Under the Order any resident who had in his possession, ownership or control on September 15th, 1939, any foreign exchange valued at more than $1,000 or any foreign securities valued at more than $1,000 is required to declare them to the Board. Notice is hereby given that any resident who has not filed such declaration with the Board by November 15th, 1939, will be considered to be in default under the provisions of the Order.

Notice is also given that the Board has provided a special form of permit for exporters who are being allowed to make exports for payment in Canadian dollars. Temporary arrangements previously made in this regard will be terminated on November 30th, and any exporter who has not then obtained a special "Control Permit-Canadian Payment" from the Board will not be able to make any further exports otherwise than for payment in foreign exchange. Any exporter who wishes to make shipments for payment in Canadian dollars and who has not yet made application in this connection to the Board should do so immediately, giving full particulars of the nature of the transactions.

For the information of the public, the Foreign Exchange Control Order and Regulations 1 to 34 of the Board are contained in special issues of the Canada Gazette dated September 15th, 17th, 23rd and 25th and October 23rd. Copies may be obtained from the King's Printer, Ottawa.

Further information may be obtained from the Board, from Collectors of Customs and Excise and from Canadian banks.

According to Culbertson

"Dear Mr. Culbertson: I would appreciate your comments on the bidding of the following hand, played in a recent duplicate game.

"North, dealer.

"Both sides vulnerable.

NORTH
♠ A Q 6 5
♥ A K Q 10 5 4

SOUTH
♠ K J 9 3
♥ 8 7
♦ Q 5
♣ J 8 7 5 2

"With North-South using the Blackwood slam convention, the bidding proceeded as follows:

| North | East | South | West |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 ♥ | Pass | 1 ♠ | Pass |
| 3 ♠ | Pass | 4 ♠ | Pass |
| 4 NT | Pass | 5 ♣ | Pass |
| 5 ♠ | Pass | Pass | Pass |

"West opened the club king, then shifted to a diamond, so we were down before we got our breaths.

"I held the North hand and I believe my strong bidding was justified. I contend that South should have bid one no trump on the first round or should have bid three no trump on the second round. I then would have been satisfied with a game, either in hearts or in spades. South would have bid the same on the first two rounds with the following holding and, if he had held these cards, a small slam would have been almost a certainty:

♠ K J 9 3 2 ♥ 8 7 ♦ A 6 5 ♣ 4 3 2

"My partner says that you recommend weak one-over-one take-outs, such as he made on this hand. I don't believe it. N.F., Chicago."

Believe it or not, I do heartily recommend weak one-over-one take-outs rather than unwieldly one no trump take-outs. Hence it goes without saying that I approve South's one spade response to one heart. My own experience, and that of every expert of my acquaintance, has proved to my complete satisfaction that the bidding develops better and is easier and safer to handle when the first response can be in a suit at the one level, rather than at no trump. As long as partners do not insist on attaching arbitrary valuations to a suit response, as long as they realize that such response may be very weak and make allowances, there is no trouble. Any difficulties that arise usually spring from wish-fulfillment on the part of the opening bidder. Having opened with a hand as good as North's, and having a "favorable" response, his yearning for a slam is so great that it blinds him to all other factors.

I do not agree for a moment that South's bidding would have been the same if he had held the hypothetical hand given. Of course, he would have first responded with one spade, but then, when partner jumped to three spades, he would not merely bid four; he would take the occasion to make an obvious ace-showing bid by bidding four diamonds, thus mildly suggesting a slam.

The fault in this hand was entirely North's for raising on the second round to three spades instead of making the proper raise to four spades. North should have realized that he could not afford to bid first three, then five. He should have done his slam investigating without passing the game level! Had he made this very strong bid (from one to four spades) South would not have been "barred." If South held substantially more (such as an ace) than he needed for his first one-over-one response, he would indicate that fact.

Damage Claim Is For Large Sum

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 30 (CP). — A lawsuit for $101,400, believed to be the largest ever in London over an automobile mishap, has been set down for trial at the Autumn non-jury court.

Frederick Scammell, London, is asking for $100,000 for injuries he says he suffered when a car in which he was a passenger collided with the car owned and driven by eighty-seven-year-old David Robinson, of Ailsa Craig.

William Thomas, driver of the car in which Scammell was a passenger, is suing for $1,000, and two other passengers in the car are suing for $200 each.

5 IN MEMORIAM

STEEDMAN—In memory of my dear friend, Major Charles Hawes Steedman, who passed away October 31, 1935.

A perfect host, a cultured mind,
Beautiful memories left behind.
Down the garden path I knew so well
'Neath the treasure house upon the hill.
T'was the month of May, the flowers were in bloom,
Life was sweet all was in tune,
You plucked me a flower bathed with the dew.
That's why everything lovely reminds me of you.
Like floods of time that ever flow
We journey on to the great unknown
It is one long year since you said goodbye
To leave your home on earth for the one on high.
Yet sometimes I feel you are near,
Among the treasures you loved so dear
I handle them gently and dust them with care,
And think how you prized them,
Their beauties to share.
The Goddess of Spring of mellowed ivory stands,
The same mystical loveliness you have held in your hands.
Calm and serene, immobile her mien
Knowing not of the pleasures and joys she has given.
—Sadly missed by Lavinia.

4 CARD OF THANKS

by CAROLYN WELLS

CHAPTER XXXII

"I am interested in these Village Fathers, who seem to take their paternity in a strange way," Stone said. "I should like to talk with some of them, but I suppose that would not be an easy matter to arrange."

"I don't see why not," Craig said; "I'll take you to see them, when you like."

"Thank you, we'll see about it," and Stone looked thoughtful.

"Too bad," Sutton was saying. "You let your guests go away this morning. They should have been kept here, for questioning."

"They don't know anything," Sheldon declared. "Gifford Hale was a stranger practically, and George and Laura Lee are old friends. And one of the others, who left this morning, is returning now."

Yvette Verne's smart little car came up the avenue from the gate. Craig hurried to the front door. He met the girl on the porch, and grasped both her hands.

"What have you done to yourself?" he cried; "Do you have to wear such awful "black" black? It changes you entirely."

"It isn't that that changes me, Craig. I've done my hair differently, it's what they call "up" and I have to be in the fashion, you know. Are they holding an inquest?"

"No. Come along in."

"Are there policemen and all that?"

"Not where we are. But there are some in the house. Never mind that. How sweet you look. I think I like your hair that way, though it changes you. Yvette, can you take it? Being questioned and all that?"

"Why, yes, of course. Though I don't know anything to tell them. I didn't kill Harley."

"Of course not. But the Medical Examiner is a keen one. I mean, he'll ask you all sorts of questions, trying to trip you up, you know. But whatever you do, don't hesitate and stammer, or try to think. Just speak up quick and bright. Tell the exact truth."

"You don't mean they suspect me! Of killing my fiance! Nonsense! I mean it's nonsense for you to talk as you do. I don't believe I do want to go in there."

"You'll have to. Come on, put up a brave front."

"I think you're out of your head! Come on, then, take me in."

"They went in the living-room, where the inquiry was being held. Cornelia greeted her, and told her she must take her place with the family, by reason of her betrothal to Harley. She introduced Stone and Sutton, and then took the girl to sit beside her.

"I want to tell you," Yvette said. "Will you all call me Avis, please? You see, I am deeply interested in that strange science called Numerology. And I had word from them this morning that I must use the name Avis instead of Yvette. I can't explain it all now, and I'm sorry to have interrupted you."

"That's all right, Miss Verne," Sutton said.

But with all the willingness in the world, she could give Sutton little information. She told of meeting Craig at a party in New York, and accepting his invitation for a week-end house-party. She told of coming to Silver Hill, and said that she and Harley Madison felt attracted to one another from the very first. That their affection grew rapidly, and when he told her that it was love at first sight with him, she confessed that it was with her, too, they became engaged. It was announced the night before, and then in the morning she learned that Mr. Madison was dead. She had an important engagement in the city, with her producer, and she had to go in to see about it. It was all right now, and she could stay at Silver Hill as long as she was needed for inquiry or assistance of any sort, and then she would go away.

Fleming Stone remembered having seen her at the cocktail party.

Here, Stone asked her where she had put the Madison pearls, for safety, last night.

"Why, I put them in the jewel case, the one that stands on the small table by the window."

"They are not there," Cornelia said.

"Then some one has taken them," Avis said, with spirit. "I meant to tell you, as I left, Miss Cornelia, that they were there and for you to get them and put them away. I know nothing further about them."

She tried to speak calmly, but her voice trembled. She felt already accused of theft, and added to the tragedy of Harley's death, it seemed too much to bear.

She rose and went quickly upstairs to her own room.

Avis, as she preferred to be called, sat by her window and looked out across the lawns, to the woods and the hills beyond.

A tap at her door, and she opened it to admit Cornelia.

"I want a little talk with you," Miss Madison said, taking the chair Avis offered. "And I wish you wouldn't wear that all black dress. It isn't becoming to you at all, and it is so doleful looking."

Island Rebekahs Meet at Nanaimo

A large representation from the Island Rebekah Lodges, I.O.O.F., met recently in Nanaimo at the request of the president of the Rebekah Assembly of British Columbia, all lodges present taking some active part in the programme. The meeting was opened and closed by the officers of Miriam Rebekah Lodge No. 3, Nanaimo. Following a short business meeting, a special staff from Colfax No. 1 and Carne No. 45 Rebekah Lodges of Victoria, exemplified the Rebekah degree.

The presentation of the traveling "Links of Friendship" was made by Ivy Rebekah Lodge No. 14, Duncan, to Miriam No. 3, Nanaimo, by the noble grand of Ivy, and a basket of flowers by the Vice-grand. Mrs. Potts, noble grand of Miriam, on behalf of her lodge, accepted the links and thanked Ivy Lodge for the gesture of friendship.

A pleasing feature of the evening was the gift of a bouquet of flowers from the staff of eight to Miss Alyce Brown, one of their members, who was celebrating her birthday on that day.

Assembly officers and other distinguished guests present, and introduced during the evening, were Mrs. P. Conrad, Vancouver, president of the R.A. of British Columbia; Mrs. M. Sommerville, Victoria, warden; Mrs. E. Doane, Victoria, past V.P. and assembly treasurer; Mrs. R. Davidson, Ladysmith, assembly chaplain; Mrs. M. Knight; Ladysmith, past president; Mrs. M. Langham, Nanaimo, past president; Mrs. M. Woodcock, Nanaimo, past president; Miss D. Stocken, D.D.P. No. 1; Mrs. M. Schofield, D.D.P. No. 3; Mrs. F. Strang, D.D.P. No. 9; Mrs. C. Dibb, D.D.P. No. 14.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by Miriam Rebekah Lodge, Nanaimo. A cake decorated in the colors of the degree and bearing the words "Welcome Visiting Rebekahs," was the donation of Mrs. Wells, Nanaimo, one of the members of Miriam Lodge.

Miss Mavis Yuesa reported on the Glintz Lake camp enjoyed by seventy-five C.G.I.T. girls in July. Miss Muriel Prendergast gave a vivid account of the 1939 Senior Provincial camp at Ocean Park. Miss Ball introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. E. O. McGinnis, who delivered an impressive talk on "Influences." The election of officers resulted as follows: Honorary president, Frances Wallace; president, Marion Conibear; vice-president and press, Joyce McLean; secretary-treasurer, Margaret Pilmer; membership convener, Lorraine Carruthers; social conveners, Grace Adams and Joyce Wallace; pianist, Jean Adams. The new officers were installed in an impressive candle-lighting ceremony, led by Mrs. R. N. E. Harris, assisted by the retiring executive, after which the evening closed with the singing of "Taps."

TRAGIC END OF VETERAN

Ferry Crosline Crashes Into Dock With Master Dead In Wheelhouse

SEATTLE, Oct. 30.—Collapsing suddenly at the wheel of the ferry Crosline, Capt. Frank Clements, veteran Puget Sound mariner, died yesterday afternoon as he was bringing his ship into port at Manchester.

The ferry plunged on, missing the ferry slip and smashing into a dock warehouse before the alarmed crew could shout instructions to the engine crew for a quick stop. A number of the passengers were shaken, but none was injured.

No one on board ship or ashore had the slightest intimation of what had happened in the wheelhouse on the bridge, and those who rushed above were amazed to find the captain dead on the floor.

There was no one else in the wheelhouse with the skipper, because the first mate, Bob Vetters, next in charge, had gone below to give the signals for slow speed, then the stop signals, as the Crosline eased toward the slip in reverse. And all other members of the crew were busy at their assigned tasks for the docking.

It is believed that the skipper died just as he was awaiting Vetters' last whistle signal for the "dead stop."

MATE GUIDING SHIP

The crash came as the Crosline arrived from Seattle. After turning around, the ferry began backing toward the slip with Capt. Frank Clements alone in the wheelhouse and Mate Robert Vetters on the rear deck guiding the ship with whistle signals.

Vetters said he gave the signal to slow down, but there was no answer from the bridge. Under virtually full reverse speed, the ferry smashed into the dock proper, struck a warehouse on top of the dock and shoved the whole structure into the bay.

Vetters signaled the engineer to stop the engines and prevent the Crosline from going aground. He rushed to the wheelhouse to find Captain Clements dead at his post, apparently the victim of a sudden heart attack.

With the captain's body still on board, and Vetters in command, the Crosline returned immediately to Seattle for repairs.

Trip Across Atlantic Ocean Uneventful

Four British Columbians who left Victoria some time ago for England, where they intended to offer their services to the British Government for the duration of the war, have advised Captain H. Seymour-Biggs, who assisted them in making preliminary arrangements, that they reached England safely. They are, left to right: H. C. Petit, Chemainus, who fancies the naval patrol; and C. A. Newman (Victoria), D. S. Greaves (Vancouver), and D. B. Moody (Hatzic), all three of whom desire enlistment with the Royal Air Force. The photograph was taken in the Windsor Street Station, Montreal.

BATTERED IN HEAVY STORM

Afterdeck of Freighter Nevadan Swept Clean and Mast Carried Away

SAN PEDRO, Cal., Oct. 30 (AP).—Severely battered by a hurricane off the Gulf of California last week, the American Hawaiian freighter Nevadan limped into the harbor from North Atlantic ports today. The ship will discharge part of her damaged cargo here and sail for Moore Drydock at San Francisco for repairs.

On the boat deck a crumpled lifeboat and smashed messroom attested to the storm's strength. The afterdeck was swept clean, and the mainmast and rigging and part of the deckload of drums were carried overboard.

Flailing booms, torn from the mainmast, ripped off hatch covers aft and exposed cargo to salt spray.

Captain J. H. Masse and crew of forty-four came through unhurt, though during most of the storm they were unable to venture on deck.

Temporary repairs will be made here, and most of the ship's 5,000 tons of cargo for Seattle, Portland and Tacoma will be discharged and trans-shipped, so that the Nevadan may go directly to San Francisco shipyards.

QUIET REIGNED OVER WEEK-END

Longshoremen Loaded One Ship and Ignored Orders To Load Another

BELLINGHAM, Wash., Oct. 30 (AP).—Bellingham's waterfront lapsed into week-end quiet following a tense Saturday in which longshoremen loaded one ship and ignored orders to load another.

Loading of the Norwegian steamer Scebell was completed without incident on Saturday night at the Puget Sound Pulp & Paper Company dock. The ship had been picketed by A.F. of L. members in "retaliation" for C.I.O. picketing which prevented loading of the steamer Point Ancha at the Bloedel-Donovan Lumber Company dock.

Pickets reappeared last night around the Scebell while the loading was in progress, but did not interfere with it.

Van C. Griffin, Puget Sound arbitrator for the National Labor Relations Board, ruled yesterday that C.I.O. longshoremen had violated their contract by refusing to load the Point Ancha on Wednesday. The Seattle (C.Q.) Waterfront Employers' Association, which includes Bellingham in its jurisdiction, then issued another order for loading of the ship, but longshore crews did not appear.

CHANGE IN SCHEDULE

Effective November 1, the air mail closing time at the Victoria Postoffice will be 3:30 p.m. instead of 4:05 p.m., as at present, Postmaster G. H. Gardiner announces. This is due to the inauguration of the Winter schedule, the plane leaving Esquimalt at 4 p.m.

MONTH-LONG FLIGHT ENDS

Long Beach Flyers Establish New World Record for Seaplanes

LONG BEACH, Cal., Oct. 30 (AP).—Wes Carroll and Clyde Schlieper landed their seaplane at 3:09 p.m. yesterday, concluding a month-long endurance flight. The new record, they announced, is 726 hours.

Their thirty-day tour over Rosamond Dry Lake, sixty miles north of Long Beach, was three days over the previous world record for sustained flight.

They broke the former 653-hour mark, established in 1935 at Meridian, Miss., by Fred and Al Key, last Thursday; then decided, since the month of flying was so near completion that they might as well keep going until Sunday.

"We feel all right, but our legs are awfully wobbly," said Carroll. "We want a bath first, and then a real bed to sleep in."

The men have slept, at two-hour intervals, in a compartment in the plane. The twenty-five-year-old Long Beach flyers landed at Marine Stadium, where they took off at 9:09 a.m., September 29.

Employer—Um-um! So you want an increase in wages, do you? How did you get that eye?

Office Boy—Please, sir—somebody called you a tightfisted old skinflint, and naturally I resented it.

(He got his increase.)

Free Yourself from Constipation!

The surest way to rid yourself of any ailment is to discover the cause and to overcome it. Constipation is caused, in the majority of cases, by a diet lacking "bulk."

If your usual menu is made up mostly of bread, meat, potatoes—in all probability your bowels lack the necessary "bulk." Purgatives do not give any lasting relief. Then eat Kellogg's All-Bran. It helps form a soft "mass" in the bowels that is favorable to "regularity."

A delicious, crisp and tasteful cereal, All-Bran is also one of the foods richest in Vitamin B1, the natural intestinal tonic.

Eat All-Bran every day, drink lots of water, and regain your gayness and well-being. Made in London, Canada by Kellogg. At all grocers.

The leading province is Ontario, with 417,276 licences at September 30, as against 497,858 for the 1938-39 period. British Columbia is the third place with 87,560 licences issued, compared with 106,169 at end of the 1938-39 fiscal year.

Visitors From Overseas Like Victoria Best

"We think Victoria is the nicest place of the lot."

That was the verdict given yesterday by Mrs. Ella Hesketh-Wright and Mrs. M. O'Connell-Jones, of London, on arrival here in the course of a travel tour that has already included New York, Niagara, Toronto, the Rocky Mountains and the Mainland coast.

Having left England a few days before war was declared, the visiting ladies are enjoying a leisurely trip around the North American continent, and don't know when they will return to London. From here they will go to Los Angeles, New Orleans and Miami, among other places. They are registered at the Empress Hotel.

Also at the C.P.R. hotel yesterday were Eustace Blundell, of London, who is making his first visit to Canada, and has crossed the Dominion en route to this city, where he will stay for a few days; Mr. and Mrs. J. Harrop, from Hongkong, making a brief stay here, and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie D. Davis and G. E. Davis, from Sydney, N.S.W.

Three Fined for Illegal Fishing

NANAIMO, Oct. 30. — Pleading guilty to gaffing salmon at Bush Creek, north of Ladysmith, J. Midan and John Hunter, of Ladysmith, were each fined $12, or fourteen days in jail. Alex Aigner, South Wellington, pleaded guilty to gaffing salmon at Nanaimo River and was given the same fine, or fourteen days.

Inspector Tait, of the Fisheries Department, told the court the practice had to cease as incalculable harm was being done at this time in spawning grounds. One offender made his escape at Nanaimo River before fisheries officials overtook him, leaving thirteen salmon on the river bank.
